FOREWORD

In keeping with the trend toward informality and candidness in high school publications, this issue of the 1940 Annual strikes a new note in WTHS yearbooks. With Saddle Shoes as the theme, an attempt has been made to carry the story of a student's progress through four years of high school, shod in saddle shoes, a mode as typical of today as was the bustle and hoopskirt a symbol of days long ago. We invite you to live those days with us now, and to relive them in fond memories in days to come, your happy, carefree Saddle Shoe days at Waukegan Township High School.

IN SADDLE SHOES

Day by day the year rolled by; We worked and played together. Our saddle shoes we wore each day No matter what the weather.

They carried us to football games, To dances and to plays; And now they'll tread within this book Down memory's happy ways.

They Keep Things Working Smoothly

Crash! A shattering of glass. It's a broken window! Call the janitor, he'll fix it.

Swish, swish, swish, the only sound that breaks the silence of the night. We see the faithful janitors sweeping up the mess left by carefree students during the day.

And so on every day, throughout the school year, the janitors serve faithfully, untired by their endless duties. Thoughtless students have little idea of the extra steps they cause the janitors by simply dropping a harmless piece of paper.

In the summer, while we are basking in the sunshine on the cool shores of Lake Michigan, or while we are on our vacations up North, the janitors are kept busy re-varnishing the desks which we have so carelessly marred and scarred with initials and doodling designs.

Students toil from eight to three, but the maintenance staff is never free.

Make Way For the Senior A Parade

Pair by pair they came, all new and shiny; two by two they go, all worn and scarred—saddle shoes of the class of January, 1940, marked by the varied activities of four happy years in high school.

On a memorable day in January, 1936, this class began its high school life; dazed they were, and a little bewildered, but determined to leave their impress on high school history. And they have done just that.

Marching joyfully along under the skillful direction of Miss Edith Higley and Mr. C. E. Melton, the class elected Tom Tinsley as president, Louise Perrine, vice-president, and Ted Wiechecki as secretary - treasurer, to lead them through the last lap of their high school career.

Sadly the school watched the departure of such sport stars as William Crump, Carl Swanson, Carl Staben, Richard Greene, Charles Kolbrick, Leonard Mansfield, Wendall Rivera, John Sahagian, Paul True, and Ted Wiechecki. They, too, were sorry to leave, but they had the satisfaction of knowing that they had left their footprints on the field of sports.

No better known members of this outstanding class are there than the Thespians, Anita Perry and Tom Tinsley, who appeared before the footlights in the class play, "Nothing But The Truth".

Slowly but surely the steps of this class grew more firm and confident. No longer stumbling, they tripped along to the music of Eddie Goodbout, George Dietmeyer, Norman Schwartz, Fred Reutlinger, Lorraine Deibler, and Florence Martin,—Mr. Graham's protegees of four year's standing.

Operettas, assembly programs, and variety shows in future years, will miss the antics and the lyrics of Richard Greene, Russell Woertz, and Tom Cliff, who have entertained the entire school many times.

With a "tramp, tramp, tramp," military boys, among others, lieutenant-colonel John Yenny, Tom Tinsley, Walter Haake, Douglas Clarke, Richard Greene, Fred Brumm, and Ray Calhoun marched up to take their places in the class' hall of fame. They helped materially to keep the class in step by being on duty at all school activities.

After all the hustle and bustle of being measured for caps and gowns, voting on announcements, presenting the class play, choosing their commencement speakers, and taking final exams, members of the January, 1940, class had a chance to look about at their classmates and found that Norman Schwartz and Annie Chaderjian were at the head of the class as Valedictorian and Salutatorium, respectively.

Closely watching all these activities was Carol Bidinger whose job it was to make sure that all events left their imprint and were properly recorded in the pages of the Annual.

With dignified and more measured steps than when they began, this class passed from the stage of Waukegan Township high school. Their day is done, but it is not forgotten. Their saddle shoes, though worn and scuffed, will always remain for them a symbol of four years of happy high school days.

SENIORS . . .

Class of June, 1940

CLASS OFFICERS

RALPH BURNETT. President
CHARLOTTE MIX, Secretary
KENNETH KELLNER, Vice-President
MR. LEO SINGER, Sponsor
MISS JESSIE WHYTE, Sponsor

Tramp, Tramp, the June, 1940, Class is Here

Hop! Skip! Jump! Over the hurdles and through their paces for four eventful, action-packed years at W.T.H.S., scuffed at the toes, the many "feats" of the class of June, 1940, are at the end of their course. It was not always smooth; it was often rough. But no longer do their steps stray from the path in search of an elevator in the Junior building or the gym in the cafeteria, as they did four short years ago.

Helping and encouraging those who might otherwise have stumbled on the way, are Miss Whyte and Mr. Singer, class sponsors; while Whitey Burnett, who has the distinction of having been elected by his class as president each year for four years, Vice-President Ken Kellner, and Secretary-Treasurer Charlotte Mix, set the pace for this formidable array of seniors.

Not far behind and wearing the sport shoes of the class, came Johnny Jerusis, Ernie Kowal, Bobby Pierce, Lennie Szczepanek, Alex Kapter, Whitey Burnett, Ray Adams, Dutch Bried, and Leo Smrtnik. How the class has pulled for them, and the whole school too! What a vacancy they will leave in sport circles when they graduate. It will be difficult for other sport aspirants to fill their shoes.

Among the sweet singers who have cheered the class by their many entertainments are Pat Alex, Betty Faassen, Betty Meekins, Betty Hansen, Milo O'Dell, Carolyn McKean, Nancy Blair, Dorothy Innes, and Ruth Ellen Chittenden.

No basketball or football game would be complete without the band to play stirring and triumphal music. Dick Faller, Kermit Kramer, Gloria Douthitt, Guerdon Green, Louis McCreight, and Ralph Dulmage helped supply this music under Mr. Graham's familiar baton. Gloria has the distinction of winning first place in national competition on her flute.

R.O.T.C. officers, lieutenant-colonel Walter Hoff, Louis Baudoin, Ray Cameron, Roger Edwards, James Haake, Ray Petkus, Robert Trigg, Sam Grassa, Pontus Johnson, Alphonse Zaborski, Don Francke, Bill Francke, Sam Rosen and Richard Salisbury, shout "Hip, Hip!" and give the class their marching orders, but in this modern age of saddle shoes, swing, and jitterbugging, the feet sometimes responded in strange ways.

"The Ghost Flew South"—also in saddle shoes, as the lads and lassies behind the footlights of the second semester senior play crossed the stage in one of the last activities of the year; and a successful activity it was, too. Playing before a packed house, the would-be Thespians put across a fun-packed production.

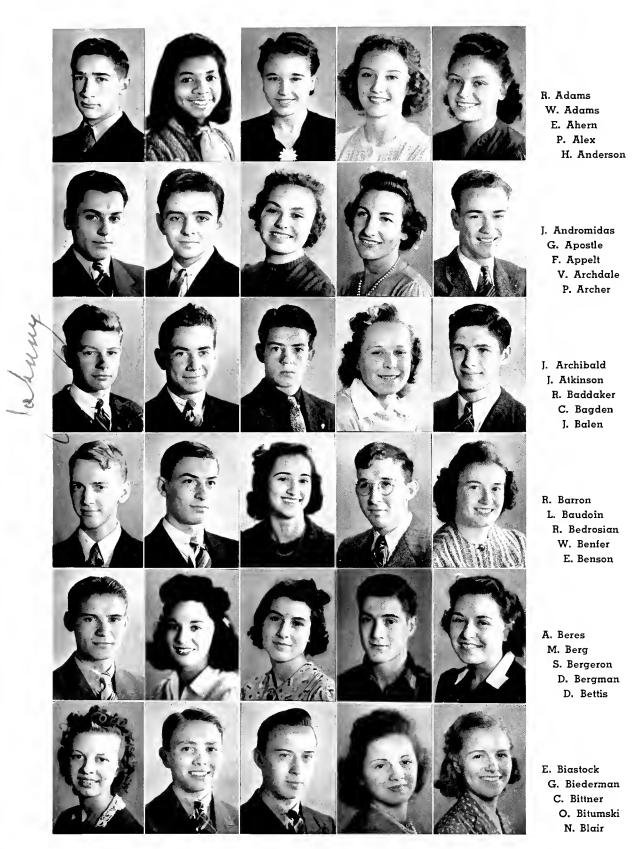

Because of this success, and because the class turned out in full force in its support, the members of this class were lucky in that they did not have to pay class dues.

Dramatists in this production and in others were: Bob John, Emma Belle Pierce, Nick Goldschmidt, Sam Rosen, Ken Kellner, Betty Hansen, Ernestine Dickinson, Charlotte Mix, Ruth Schiff, Eldene Loftus, Kermit Kramer, and Jo Anne Kirkham.

At the Military Hop, Jo Anne Kirkham received the honor of being elected "Little Colonel" with Virginia Reed and Jeanette Spoor as two of her "Little Majors".

Recording the timidness, the stumbling, and the building up to the time when the class took their steps across the W.T.H.S. stage decked in blue caps and gowns, were Doris Curlee, Ernestine Dickinson, Charlotte Mix, Jo Anne Kirkham, Eldene Loftus, Robert John, Frank Palmer, and Bill Goodman of the Annual staff.

The doors close; the echoes of their footsteps die away; they, too, have followed the path of their predecessors—to graduation.

In Saddle Shoes, Size 3-A

Long, short, narrow, wide; nevertheless, all the same, size 3-A. Different saddle shoes on different feet; yet, really on the same foot; ambitious, struggling, stumbling; yet, always forging steadily ahead toward the nearing goal.

Make way! Make way! The trumpets blast! Alf Christiansen, Clifford Ehnert, Adolph Reilio, James Huff, and Laura VanPelt supply the triumphal music as the tramp, tramp of marching feet is heard. Marjorie Harris, class president; Pearl Stewart, vice-president; Madeline Mackey, secretary-treasurer; with sponsors Miss Ella Clark and Mr. M. G. Thompson, lead the Junior A class across the W.T.H.S. field.

Making a name for the school as well as for their class are sport stars Billy Reilly, Bill Sitzman, Virgil Burkey, and Walter Hutton, doing their best to fill the shoes of the graduates. With buttons gleaming and sabers flashing in the sunlight, military officers Ralph Swank, Jack Van Sickle, Joe Wentworth, and Bill Holmquist make one feel that they love a parade as they pass in review before the admiring array of dramatists, Nancy Doolittle, Esther Rostker, Ralph Swank, Jack Van Sickle, and Bob Tornquist.

The whole class straightens up to mind its P's and Q's, as the busy pencils of journalists Esther Rostker, Rosalie Levin, Anita Lewis, Marjorie Harris, and Gladys Hangebrauck write the good and bad of what they see for the yearbook and the "W" World.

Their Junior Prom, with Bill Holmquist as chairman, is now over, and they enter the excitement of their last year's activities. A shout goes up; the goal is sighted! Quicker than a wink, the class breaks up; hundreds of feet plunge madly forward, showing their heels to the rest of the classes—their size is 3-A.

Their Day Is a Year Away

Hark! What's that? It's new and strange! Amidst the hustle and bustle of Senior building life, another sound is heard; it's a sound of a new step through the halls and on the stairs, strange saddle shoes, strange steps. The Junior B's have given up the familiar pathways of Junior building life to explore the wonders of the Senior building and upperclassman life.

Under the indulgent smiles and curious glances of the old-timers, the class begins its new experience. They place at their head, President Roland McMinn, Vice-President Eugene Bleck, and Secretary-Treasurer Suzanne Johnson. But, watch out, old-timers; you'll have a hard time holding your own against this class!

George Kerkorian, Leslie Millholin, Ed Pasiewicz, Elmer Neville, John Sisty, and Jim Huffine are rising young sport stars making bids for positions on W.T.H.S. teams. The humming, whistling, and occasional singing heard in the halls, more than likely emanates from Mackie Beeman, or Lorraine Dunn, or maybe from musicians, Victor Graham, Jordan Hillman, Bob Hoag, Lawana Connell, Leonard Gordon, Frank De Bartola, and Angela Milos.

Bob Durst, Betty Boyd and Suzanne Johnson are often heard muttering to themselves, but they're only learning their lines for a dramatic production. Military officers, Mackie Beeman, and Budgy McMinn glory in the new experience of giving orders to Junior building rookies.

By the end of their most important activity, the Junior Prom, led by Prom Chairman Ann Link, and under the guidance of Miss Cora Brown and Mr. C. H. Dalton, the class is a full fledged member of the Senior building personnel.

Scuffed from a Year's Hard Wear

With happy but determined steps, their saddle shoes scuffed from a year's hard work, the January Class of 1942 scamper gaily through the activities of the school year.

Raymond Smith, Dean Dalton, and Shirley Pitts stepped into the office of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Their firm steps of leadership in directing class gatherings carried them through the events of many happy days.

Running among the leaders in the sports field, we may see Kenneth Owens, Raymond Smith, Ralph Sorensen, Dick Lyons, Donald Johnson, and James McClendon. The voice and personality of Shirley Pitts starred in the music department programs and before numerous assemblies. The sound of the band playing brings to our minds Dean Dalton, Raymond Eimerman, and Bob Brunner. Mildred Goodman is showing promise in dramatics. Betty Spoor and Mary Ellen Helgren are evident tops in scholarship.

Next year will see them covered with paint and glue, their minds bursting with airy plans; for their Junior Prom is bound to be the climax of their social activities. Merrily they go. They have yet to acquire the dignity and poise that mark the steps of the outgoing seniors. Only too soon, these carefree Sophomores will be the Seniors, who are destined to set the example for the rest of the school.

Proudly Displaying Their Second Pairs

They're on their toes! Indeed they are! On tiptoe, they peer forward over the heads of the other classes to catch a glimpse of the promised prize. With that inspiration in view, the class, ready for anything, watches the marching feet of their prominent members parading down the road to fame.

Sponsors, Miss Hildur Steinert and Mr. George McDill, outline the route, with president, Barbara James; vice-president, Robert Nuttall; secretary, Mcrgaret Repp; and treasurer, Virginia Whitson at the head of the ranks to see that the course is followed.

This class is distinguishing itself especially in the field of music, sports, and dramatics.

In music Edith Dunn and Shirley Anderson are making a name for their class. Prominent in dramatics are Don Carlson, Patsy Oetjen, Eleanor Fredbeck and Virginia Birchfield. Not far behind comes the ball carried by George O'Flaherty, Jack Evans, Brenton Emerick, Bob Allen, and Bill Grosche. The future leaders in Girls' League are Lois Mitchell, Lorraine Nordberg, and Mary Nimits.

And so they pass in review; in the course of time, many more will rise to take their places in the ranks of the class. The class of June, 1942 is slated for greater things. They're Tops!

Veterans of a Semester's Trials

Lightly skipping, gaily tripping, the Freshman A class started the school year last September, glad that they were no longer "Greenhorns." Now they could laugh at the incoming class.

Stepping right along under the skillful guidance of Miss Eleanor De Young and Mr. M. M. Thompson, they felt as though their early troubles were a thing of the past. To steer them away from future difficulties, they accordingly elected John Burnett, president; Patricia Duncan, vice-president; and Bob Liggett, secretary-treasurer.

Already appearing in the limelight, are master musicians in the Senior band, Jimmy Butler, Robert Deibler, Clyde Fawcett, and Charles Roos. John Andrews is making a name for himself in dramatics, while many more from this up-and-coming class are destined for fame on the athletic field.

On December 16, 1933, saddle shoes galore skipped merrily to the gym for that all important event, the class party. What fun they did have! Patty Ann Howell, Elise Doolittle, Jay Paul Minn, Bob Deibler, Jim Butler, Frances Turk, Geraldine Galster, Billy Barnes, Richard Calhoun, and Richard Alford did their part to make it a gala affair.

Still gaily skipping and occasionally tripping, this class remains poised and ready for the many activities of the coming years.

Whoopee! Brand New Saddle Shoes!

Spick and span, clean and shiny, unscuffed by the trials of high school life, the saddle shoes of the Freshman class hesitated upon the threshold of the Junior building on that first Tuesday in September. While their owners paused uncertainly, Mr. Thalman called them to the gym and there gave them their instructions for finding their respective classes. Finally they trooped through the corridors, dodged behind open doors to look at the numbers, and after much embarrassment, ended up at the spots indicated on their program cards.

A few, the less timorous and shy, were soon discovered and elected to lead their class. They were Stanley Durka, president; Betty Lou Funk, vice-president; and Barbara Hulse, secretary-treasurer.

At their class party on April 6th, they soon overcame their self-consciousness and joined in the games and dancing. Some so mastered themselves that soon their names will be prominent in sports, dramatics, band, and other school activities. Phyllis Bergstrom, Mary Lou Boyles, Arthur Dietmeyer, Mary Green, Kless Gyzen, George Johns, Mary Kyndberg, Dick Mohrmann, Joan Nolan, Francis Peterson, Joan Schleck, Donald Soderquist, and Bob Wyllie are the representatives of the class in the different homerooms.

The whole class, under the sponsorship of Miss Eleanor Moore and Mr. H. I. Canine, pushed ahead, gaining confidence and success as the year went on, until at the end of the last semester, the freshman saddle shoes, though no longer new and shiny, trooped the corridors less hesitatingly, and though often stumbling, they seemed to feel a certainty as to where they were going and why.

They Are Tops --- The Pick of the Lot

The most impressive ceremony of the school year, and certainly the most thrilling for those who are privileged to participate, is the induction of members into the National Honor Society.

Early in January, twenty seniors, fifteen girls and five boys, were admitted to the Society. Conducting the ceremony were four Senior A's initiated last spring; they were Tom Tinsley, chairman, Lorraine Deibler, Florence Martin, and Sirkka Hannula.

January initiates were Patty Alex, Hennie Anderson, Ralph Burnett, Anne Chaderjian, Gloria Douthitt, Esther Duncan, Elsie Fulham, Dorothy Harris, Britta Hellgren, Robert John, Jr., Margie Justen, Jo Anne Kirkham, Louis McCreight, Betty Meekins, Betty Newenham, Renee Nuttall, Virginia Reed, Sam Rosen, Evelyn Syverud, and Thaddeus Wiechecki. Another group from the Senior class was initiated in May, but their names were not available for publication here.

Election to the Honor Society is the greatest honor a high school student can have conferred upon him. He must be outstanding in scholarship, service, leadership, and character. First of all, a student must be in the upper third of his class; then he is judged on service to the school, and on points included under leadership, and character.

Formerly, the students' qualifications were judged by the faculty, but this year a new system was introduced, whereby classmates also have the privilege of passing judgment on those who are scholastically qualified for membership. The combined result of faculty and student ballot now determines the members of the National Honor Society.

Council Provides Student Government

classes have proper passes. Then there are those occasional dreaded crimson tags on the lockers; it is mute evidence that a Student Council hall monitor has been on the job.

The Student Council, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Witham and Mr. Robert Nickel, faculty sponsors, is the governing body of the high school. Elizabeth Gilbert, president; Ann Link, secretary; Betty Meekins, vice-president; and Dean Dalton, treasurer, were this year's officers. In charge of one of the most important activities of the organization, the hall monitorial system, was Patty Alex.

To provide the students with more and better assembly programs, the Student Council sponsored its annual fall paper campaign early in the year. The proceeds from the sale of thousands of pounds of paper was thus utilized for the benefit of the entire school. A spring paper campaign, something different at W.T.H.S., was underway in May. This campaign was held in connection with the city Clean-up Drive. Dean Dalton, successful chairman of the fall campaign, again was in charge.

LAUNCH CLEANUP DRIVE

An added emphasis on cleanliness of corridors, rooms, and school surroundings early in May could be traced directly to the Student Council clean-up campaign. The whole city held a Clean-up Drive at the same time, and Bill Holmquist represented the Student Council in taking charge of the school's part.

A "Man-on-the-Street" assembly program, sponsored by Courtesy, spelled C-O-U-R-T-E-S-Y, opened the Student Council's Courtesy Campaign. Bob Tornquist was the genial master of ceremonies.

At the Victory Hop, after the Morton basketball game, there was an unusually large crowd . . . probably a result of another project, the Student Council dancing class. This was one of the outstanding achievements of the year in the field of new projects. It was organized by a group of music-minded council members under the leadership of chairman Lawana Connell. It was for the benefit of those freshmen who wanted to learn to dance. With the help of a group of fifteen upper classmen and accordion-music furnished by Martha Niemi and Dora Mears, the dancing class made great progress.

Esther Rostker, assembly chairman, announced what proved to be one of the most popular assembly programs of the school year, Mr. Jackson and his Seeing-Eye dog, Crissy. Mr. Jackson explained how a Seeing-Eye dog is trained and the steps in training a blind person to use a dog. Crissy then demonstrated some of her training: her master attempted to walk off the stage, but Crissy stalwartly stood in front of him.

Bob Deibler, chairman of Junior school hall monitors, scans daily report of monitor Florence Remsgar, while Jay Paul Minn awaits his turn.

At right, Sydelle Feder is in the act of tagging the locker of a careless student who has neglected to click the trusty padlock which guards the contents of his locker.

TO DISTRICT CONFERENCE

One of the most anticipated and exciting items on the busy Student Council calender are the District and State conventions that are held every year. Waukegan Township has always been well represented at these conferences; in fact this past year Waukegan's council was fortunate enough to have Pat

BELOW: Awaiting transportation to the District Convention are: Patty Alex, Lawanna Connel, Elizabeth Gilbert, Bob Tornquist, Bill Holmquist and Louis McCreight.

Alex elected as one of the state officers of the Illinois Association of Student Councils. Patty was elected at the State Convention in Peoria last year, and took over the quill and ink bottle for the State Student Body in April of 1939.

The council feels it has even more to brag about in that it has another officer, Dean Dalton; at the meeting of the Northern District last fall he was elected treasurer of that body for the school year 1939-40.

This year's State Convention of the I.A.-S.C. was held at Carbondale, Illinois—way down in the southern part of the state. Waukegan's representatives were Elizabeth Gilbert, local president; Patty Alex, Betty Meekins, Nancy Doolittle, and Bob John.

To wind up a feverish year of work and accomplishments, the Council had a last spree. It was a picnic and was planned by the entertainment chairman, Lawana Connell.

A Growing, Thriving Organization

Tap, tap, tap, on a typewriter, or a pound, pound, pound, on an adding machine is rather monotonous, but the Commercial Club provides social activity for students in the business field, and stimulates interest for students who are preparing for business occupations. It helps make the high school commercial course anything but dull. The 1939-40 group boasted of having three-hundred members who were very active in making the club a success.

Don Franke, president, Elsie Fulham, vice-president, and Rita McCann, secretary-treasurer, led the club this year. Sponsors of the club are Mr. R. S. Barnes, Mr. H. B. Bauernfeind, and Mr. G. I. Meyers, while Mildred Simcic, parliamentarian, Tom Cliff, master of ceremonies, and Dora Mears, Martha Niemi and Loretta Schriner, musicians, all lent their expert assistance.

"A worthy competitor to the Student 'W' World," is what was said of the Commercial Hi-Lites, the club paper, which gave all the lowdown on club-members. It told of coming events and gave helpful hints to the aspiring businessmen and women. It was illustrated by comical cartoons and enlivened by witty remarks contributed by the staff. The paper was published in room Junior 110 under the direction of Mr. Bauernfeind. Its seven issues gave its writers and artists expert practice in writing, editing, make-up and mimeographing; and for Bill and Don Franke, art work.

ACTIVITIES ARE VARIED

The club started off its social season with a hike and weiner roast to Hinkston Park, early in the fall; it proved just the thing for a get-acquainted meeting. One of the most novel initiations of any club was held in the Junior Assembly by this group. Members watching this meeting practically "rolled in the aisles."

In mid-winter, the Snowflake Ball proved a very appropriate dance, furnishing entertainment and fun for all.

The chief educational activity of the group was a trip to Chicago, where they visited the offices and plant of the gigantic mail order house of Sears Roebuck & Co., and also the Horder Stationery Company. Later the seventy student excursioners were present at station W.M.A.Q., during the club matinee program. Members who went on this trip returned with many souvenirs and articles given to them by the firms visited. Business men and experts in all lines of clerical and commercial work came to demonstrate their skill before the club, and give them tips to help them later in life.

Although mid-year graduation depleted the ranks of the Commercial Club, the students began their drive the very first week of the new semester to build up their organization. They elected Mary Lou Berg as president, Anne Galinis as vice-president, Mildred Zabukovec as secretary, and entrusted John Heikenfeld with the duties of the treasurer.

The club took up a new phase of entertainment the second semester of the school year and sponsored movies, not only for the members of the club, but for the whole student body. These movies starred many actors including Bing Crosby and Mickey Rooney. The showings were held every week in the Junior Assembly at a very reasonable admission price. The profits made from the movies were used to purchase film strips applicable for commercial classroom use next year.

Reviving the Lost Art of Walking

Tramp, tramp! It's the 500 Mile Hikers out for a little jaunt of not less than four miles!

The members certainly enjoy walking! The shortest hike on the schedule is the four mile trek, a six mile hike is the average, and the longest is twelve miles.

In competing to set the fastest pace, Arvin Riley established a new club record for both the four and five mile time hike, making four miles in 43 minutes and 11 seconds, and five miles in 53 minutes fifty-seven seconds. His time by miles was 10:31, 21:38, 32:32, 43:57.

Alladeane Jones holds the year's record for the girls' four mile hike. Her time was 52:49, which is two minutes short of the club record.

During the year the club enjoyed a gala party, the biggest event of their year. No, the postman may take a walk on his holiday, but not so the Waukegan hikers. They staged a dainty hop instead.

The purpose of the club is to promote walking as a hobby, both for the healthful exercise which it affords and for good fellowship.

Mary Lou Berg was the president of the club, and Alladeane Jones was the secretary. Al Grosche sponsors this active group.

At a time when most of us are either too busy or too lazy to travel even a few blocks without the aid of some artificial means of locomotion, an organization like the W.T.H.S. Hikers is indeed a boon. If this group can do anything towards revitalizing, preserving, and popularizing the almost lost art of walking, then it may someday be heralded as one of the most worthwhile of the many high school activities.

Parlez-Vous Français? Mais Oui.

Francais begins its meetings, which are held every second Tuesday of the month. The purpose of the club is to give French students a better understanding of the French customs and culture. It adds an interest to the classroom work, and makes the students feel a closer relationship with their French friends.

At the beginning of the year, Miss Weiss secures from the foreign correspondent bureau, a list of names and addresses of French boys and girls in the French-speaking countries. This gives our students a chance to improve their French and also to understand conditions in France. This year has been particularly interesting for the correspondences because of the war conditions in Europe.

At the monthly meetings, a chorus of girls composed of Ruth Ellen Chittenden, Katherine Houser, Carolyn McKean, Frances Matijevich, and Katherine Matijevich, was lead by Betty Meekins in numerous French songs. Lorraine Deibler and Florence Martin accompanied the singers the first semester, and Frances Smith, the second.

The outstanding meeting of the year was the Christmas program at which Lorraine Nordberg gave an interesting discussion on Christmas and New Year customs in France. Jack Voelpel presented a talk on French Christmas cards. Carolyn McKean sang Cantique de Noel.

"Chez La Modeste," a French skit, written by some of the students with the help of Miss Weiss, was presented early the second semester. Charlotte Mix, was a young Parisian girl who lost her hat in a wind storm, and had to go and buy another one. Katherine Matijevich was Charlotte's friend, and Sirkka Hannula was the clerk in a smart hat shop

The club, under the able direction of Miss Frances Weiss, selected as their officers for the first and second semesters respectively: Florence Martin, and Betty Meekins, president; Jo Anne Kirkham and Esther Ohanian, vice-president; Doris Curlee and Katherine Houser, secretary; Edward Goodbout and Nancy Tinsley, treasurer.

It is the tradition of the club to close each meeting by singing the French national anthem, La Marseillaise.

Die Deutsche Gesellschaft ---

Members attending the German Club meetings enjoy games, songs, riddles and poems, all in German, to acquaint them with the customs of the German people.

Die Deutsche Gesellschaft is a comparatively young organization because of the fact that the study of German was banned in most American schools during the World War and the club was just refounded in 1938. At Christmas time, a play was given in German. Those who took part were: Rheinholder Schmidt, Albin Leicht, Leonard Gordon, Arthur Lokkins, Jordan Hillman, and June Luzar.

The club looked forward with much anticipation to a movie of the Rhine country, with Mrs. McLean telling of her trip down the Rhine. It proved highly educational as well as interesting.

Officers of the club were: Lorraine Deibler, president; James Haake, vice-president; Edward Bunk, secretary-treasurer; and Britta Hellgren, program chairman. Miss Bess Dady is sponsor of the club.

At other meetings German test games were played. It is all fun, yet the student learns new words and stories.

The meetings are all carried on by the students. Miss Dady gives her assistance only when needed.

The majority of the club membership are from among those enrolled in the two year course in German offered as a regular part of the foreign language course.

There's a Bevy of Jolly Girls

"It's Thursday night! It's Thursday night! It's time for us to meet." The clubroom rings with the merry voices of the Girls' League, singing their club song.

On meeting nights, dozens of scampering feet rush gaily down the steps to the clubroom. Their owners settle cozily on davenports, window seats, and easy chairs to await fun and business. Betty Newenham was president; Ruth Makela, vice-president; Charlotte Mix, secretary; Gloria Douthitt, treasurer; and Lois Anderson, council chairman. These officers take charge and the activities are planned.

Over the goal line and through the goal posts, the couples marched for the first dance of the year—the Girls' League football dance after the Evanston game. Yea, Team!

"Step right up, folks. Try your skill! Five chances, only one penny", sang out the barkers. Booths were decked with brilliantly colored streamers and gay balloons lined the gym. Happy crowds thronged about the con-

With joyous expectation, the little crippled children arrived in the clubroom for the Girls' League Crippled Children's Party given at Christmas time. They were not disappointed. Christmas spirit filled the air; entertainment was lively; presents were eagerly clutched in tiny hands. When all was through, the girls as well as the children went happily homeward.

Freshman Orientation, Senior Girls' Tea, Transfer Girls' Party, Honor Society Teas, Valentine candy raffle, and a Mother and Daughter Tea were a few cf the many activities carried on by this organization.

When students remember the Lost and Found Department and the selling of refreshments at basketball and football games, they thank their lucky stars that there is a girls' League to take charge.

Thank Goodness for Miss Rundauist and Miss Coy, sponsors . . . and Thursday Nights!

Preparing to Solve Bigger Problems

What fun the Girl Reserves have when they meet every other Monday at the Y.W.-C.A. clubhouse after school! This fine organization, which is under the able sponsorship of Mrs. A. C. Gartley and Mrs. A. Stapleton, promotes friendship among the girls, and helps to give them a better understanding of the many problems which face them. In the club code, the girls uphold character, courtesy, poise, dependability, leadership, and sincerity as their ideals.

At the beginning of the year the club elected as their president, Pat Alex; with Angela Milos, vice-president; Doris Peterson, secretary; Dorothy Bettis, treasurer; and Doris Curlee, publicity chairman.

Formerly, this group was divided into two groups, the senior group composed of high school juniors and seniors, and the junior group made up of freshmen and sophomores. However, this year the two clubs decided to combine into one club.

The girls are always willing to help out at any function given in connection with the "Y", such as serving at banquets, selling candy, or tickets. They always have excellent meetings furnished either by members of the club or from some outside source. Some of this year's excellent programs were: Mrs. Hogevoll's book review, "A Portrait of Jenny;" a musical and literary program presented by two of the club members, Lorraine Deibler and Florence Martin; and the talks on Victorious Women which were given in connection with the one standard of the code "Victorious Over Self."

The Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y club held a joint meeting in April which proved to be a great success. They discussed dates, and what they expect of a date. After the discussion, they danced and enjoyed refreshments.

Dedicated to Building Christian Character

Each Monday night throughout the school year a group of boys meet at the Y.-M.C.A. for fun and business. Under the direction of Mr. Gilmore of the Y.M.C.A., and Mr. Schoenoff and Mr. Van Deusen of the high school, the Hi-Y maintains its high standard of conduct throughout both the school and community life.

Officers were elected at the beginning of each semester. They were, for the respective semesters, Tom Tinsley and Nick Goldschmidt, president; Bob John, twice vice-president; Russell Woertz and Kenneth Kellner, secretary; George Dietmeyer and Ben Donaldson, treasurer.

At the State Hi-Y Conference of 1939, Tom Tinsley, the local president, was elected president for the state group. Twelve members from the local chapter attended the conference.

The club held its twenty-fifth annual

Father and Son Banquet at the high school cafeteria in February. This event was the largest activity of their social year. Other highlights on the club's calender were a dance at the high school, a splash party at the Y.M.C.A. pool, two hayrides, and a dinner for new members.

The club collaborated with the Girl Reserves on April 22 for the first joint meeting of the two clubs. Mr. Van Dausen was the guest speaker for the evening. He gave his views on dating and problems concerning girls and boys. Then the meeting was opened for a general discussion by the members of the group, and different opinions were voiced. Refreshments and dancing were enjoyed by members of the clubs following the business. This meeting proved such a success that it was decided that another joint meeting should be held. The annual spring picnic will wind up the year's activities.

History Club the Most Popular in School

Under the able direction of Roy C. Hurd, the History club has earned the distinction of being the largest and most active club in school. Officers for the first semester were: Anita Perry, president; Eddie Goodbout, vice-president; Virginia Reed, secretary; Ken Kellner, treasurer; JoAnne Kirkham, historian; and Tom Tinsley, sergeant-at-arms. Credit is due Pat Alex for providing the all-around, good-time meetings that took place while she held the program chairman position.

For the second semester the organization chose Mackie Beeman, president; Nancy Doolittle, vice-president; JoAnne Kirkham, secretary; Dick Turner, treasurer; Marjorie Harris, historian; Jack Pettee, sergeant-at-arms; and Carolyn McKean, program chairman.

Early in October, practically the entire membership piled into bulging buses and were soon rolling merrily on their way to the great city of Chicago for the semester's first jaunt. A ticklish task, indeed, befell these sturdy travelers when they had to choose between visiting either the Stevens hotel or the Board of Trade building. For lunch, the divided groups met at the Stevens Coffee

Shop where they amazed the waiters with their ravenous appetites.

In the afternoon, this dauntless excursion group took in the thrilling Northwestern-Wisconsin football game. (They claim that with their lusty Waukegan lungs, they out-yelled every one. This isn't hard to believe if one thinks of the humdrum that must be hushed at every assembly program.) Although tired, and it was a pleasant weariness, the excursioners agreed that a nice time was had by all when they arrived home again early in the evening. General chairman of this outing was Roger Edwards. Committee chairmen were as follows: badges, Roland Mc-Minn and Betty Hansen; reservations, Fred Jefferson; Walter Hoff planned the itinerary of this successful pilgrimage.

Louise Perrine was chairman of the festive mid-semester dance, the Harvest Moon hop. Decorations were built around a large yellow moon that smiled down on the waltzers as the jack-o-lanterns lead them into the gaily decorated gymnasium. The Ambassadors, who played for the corn-stalkers, were surrounded by scarecrows and mammoth

SPONSOR PRUTH McFARLIN

For the Christmas program the club invited Pruth McFarlin, a colored tenor from Piney Woods school in Mississippi, to give his renditions of favorite songs. Mr. McFarlin was so well received that he was invited to return in May for another appearance.

Instead of the annual breakfast hike, this spring the club forgot tradition and trudged their way to the Bowen country club for a supper hike! After filling that cavern located below the lungs, with all kinds of goodies from hot dogs to hot chocolate, these ramblers, daring the sharp breezes, danced at the club house.

What could have been more appropriate than a Pan-American theme for the twelfth annual banquet! Under the chairmanship of Florence Martin, the theme was carried out to perfection with gay serapes and sombreros, colorful posters, maps, pamphlets, official letters, and even products from our South American neighbors in the form of manganese, tonka beans, tapioca, graphite, coffee, and many more.

Interest for the evening was woven about the imaginary tour which left Chicago on a Clipper plane, went over New Orleans, followed the east coast of South America to Montevideo, then over to Santiago. The return trip was up the west coast, through Central America, to Los Angeles, and home.

Anita Perry introduced several distinguished out-of-town guests, including the Argentian consul of Chicago, Senor Alfredo J. Ambrosini, accompanied by Senor Miguel G. Calderon, Mexican Consul-General in Chicago, and Mrs. Harriet Shanks Platt, president of the Pan-American Council in Chicago. After the dinner in the cafeteria, over which toastmaster Norman Schwartz presided, all guests went to the Junior assembly where a movie, "Flying Down to Rio," was shown as a feature of an interesting program.

Mrs. Platt enthralled the audience with an interesting account of some of her Latin American experiences. Last on the program was the dancing to popular strains in Jr. 330. Hennie Anderson was chairman of the correspondence committee; chairman of the entertainment was Nancy Doolittle. Other committees were Marian Elsbury, favors; Norman Schwartz, decorations; Vieno Sompii, invitations; Jack Van Sickle, program; and last, but far from least, Rose Yellen's menu committee.

"RIGHT THIS WAY"

On March 9, and again on March 23, the club sponsored a refreshment stand in the Junior building lower corridors, selling hot dogs, hamburgers, and pop for benefit of the band. Jean Cannon had charge of this undertaking when the district band contest was held at Waukegan on the two dates mentioned above.

"Step down!" was the familiar phrase heard during the week of March 29th, for at Judge Beecher Gavel's Night Court, contestants presented their cases and were "tried" for the Amateur Nite Prizes. Louis Molback, the chattering cartoonist, won first prize in the dramatic entrees with his sketchy line, and Lorraine Dunn won first prize in the Musical section when she tripped lightly up and down the scales in a light opera aria. Charlotte Mix, general chairman of this super-colossal event, had as helping committee chairmen, Billy Holmquist, program; Roland McMinn, tickets; Virginia Reed, publicity; Suzanne Johnson, make-up; Pearl Stewart, judges; and Bob Tornquist, head of the stage crew. As a decorative note, girl ushers "directed traffic" while garbed in authentic policeman uniforms. It was truly a whizz of a production!

An assembly program was sponsored jointly by the History and Spanish clubs in the latter part of April. Miss Judith Lopez Diaz, born in Porto Rico and now a student of the Chicago Normal School, did the real thing when she offered two Spanish dances as her part in the program. Nancy Doolittle, chairman of this Pan American Day assembly, introduced the program with a short talk on the origin of this day.

Committees worked diligently when they planned for the last two activities of the semester, the spring trip and the spring dance. Gorial Douthitt, chairman of the trip, planned a rollicking itinerary and Lois Anderson, not to be outdone, swung the dance with all the vim and vigor that it takes!

Junior History Club . . . a Young Peppy Group

The Junior History Club is a social organization composed of sophomores and freshmen, which attempts to promote good fellowship and provide social affairs during their leisure.

Do you remember the "Blue Danube" dance with every other number a waltz? That was sponsored by this spirited club. General chairman for this affair was Dorothy Yumplot.

On Saturday, December 2, the members took their Chicago trip. Leaving at 7:30, their first stop was the Chicago Board of Trade where they heard a lecture and watched the opening of the market from the visitors' gallery. They then went to the Civic Opera House where they saw a movie, "The Story of Light," in the Lighting Institute on the thirty-second floor. A tour of the Stevens Hotel, which came next, was followed by a visit to the Field Museum and the Art Institute.

An outstanding event of each semester is the initiation of new members. The programs are always remembered because of the impressive as well as humorous incidents which transpire. Some of the initiates were sent on a scavenger hunt, and returned with mustard and ketchup on a finger, hairnets, playing cards, a license plate, Miss Dady's signature, and many articles seldom seen in W.T.H.S. At the close of this meeting new and old members enjoyed taffy apples.

GIVE CHRISTMAS SKIT

At their Christmas program the group presented a one-act play, "Twas the Night Before Christmas". Norman Kaplan, dressed as good of Santa, added to the festivity of the day by passing out dixie cups. Miss Durkin, Miss Moore, and Mr. Hurd were special guests.

On December 22 a joint meeting was held with the Senior History Club. Mr. Pruth McFarlen, accompanied by his wife, presented a very enjoyable musical program.

Officers for the first semester were: Betty Joe Sievers, president; Mildred Goodman, Secretary; Donald Carlson, treasurer; Mary Ellen Helgren, historian; Norman Kaplan, sergeant-at-arms; Virginia Birchfield, program chairman. Board of control members were: Betty Streed, Jack Voelpel, and Dora Yellen.

Officers for the second semester were: Virginia Whitson, president; Earl Wilkie, vice-president; Virginia Birchfield, secretary; Barbara Green, treasurer; Mary Lou Boyles, historian, and Norman Kaplan, sergeant-at-arms. Board of control members were: Norborn Emerick, Geraldine Copp, Bob Whillie, Mary Frances Drysdale. Program chairman was Eleanor Fredbeck, and social chairman, Dorothy Yumplot.

During the second semester they cooperated with the Senior History club to make Amateur Nite a complete success.

Mr. McDill and Mr. Van Deusen are sponsors of the organization.

Encouraging the Fine Art of Homemaking

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach!" So goes an old proverb. Perhaps that explains in part why so many W.T.H.S. girls are learning to cook!

One of the outstanding events of the Home Economics club during the year was the fruit cake sale the girls gave to raise funds for an assembly sponsored by the group. Mildred Gibbs and Lois Broemelkamp received prizes as the star salesgirls. The assembly which was given on November 17, 1939, was a very enjoyable one. Miss Sylvia Ann Johnson gave a skit of Mary Todd Lincoln's life. She also gave two other amusing readings.

After a district rally at Argo, Illinois, two girls were sent to the State club meeting in Chicago. They were Lillian Potochnik and Gloria Villalvaso.

The purpose of the club, which flourishes under the direction of Miss Lucille Webb, is to give high school girls an opportunity to be of service to the school and to interest girls in Home Economics as a unit of study and as an ultimate career. The girls serve at the different banquets and teas given at school. In this way they learn the correct way of serving.

Officers of the club are: Lillian Potochnik, president; Lois Broemelkamp, vice-president Willemina Boland, secretary-treasurer.

A Mother-and-Daughter tea is given each year in honor of Mother's Day. Interesting programs are arranged for the enjoyment of the Mothers, and refreshments are attractively served.

Promoting International Good Will

Whenever there is an emergency, the Red Cross is right there to offer aid. The purpose of the junior organization is to develop a spirit of helpfulness toward others, and to promote international goodwill. Under the guidance of their efficient sponsor, Miss Vera Jerg, the members have gone far in carrying out these ideals.

Each year the high school chapter makes up bountiful Christmas baskets for the needy. This project is the largest of those undertaken by the club and it requires long hours of tedious, although interesting, work. Much credit is due Gladys Hangebrauck, Marjorie Harris, Britta Helgren, Madeline Mackey, and Carol Vlack for the successful campaign which they planned and carried out with such wonderful results this past year. Toys, clothing, groceries were all packed and piled in colorful heaps. From all the disorder, bustle, and chaos, articles were sorted, counted, checked off, packed, and delivered. And it was fun!

Two dances, the "Turkey Strut", and the "Irish Jig", were sponsored during the semester. Proceeds from the "Turkey Strut" were used for the Christmas basket fund while the profit from the "Irish Jig" was used to send delegates to the National Red Cross convention at Washington, D. C.

A scrapbook kept for the purpose of the international exchange to promote the feeling of good fellowship and a better international understanding, was kept throughout the year. Barbara James, Patsy Oetjen, Laurell Piper, and Tom Tinsley were responsible for the compiling of this book. The last scrap book was sent to Pangasinan Secondary School in Lingayen, Pangasinan, Philippine Islands. In the past books have also been sent to South Africa and Czechoslovakia.

In the spring of 1939 the delegates chosen to represent Waukegan high school chapter at the National Convention in Washington D. C. were Wayne Hansen, Dorothy Harris, Dorothy Luce, and Tom Tinsley. Donald Carison, Astere Claeyssens, Barbara James, Madeline Mackey, Pat Oetjen, and Laurel Piper made the trip in May, 1940. Don Carison had the honor of being one of the speakers at the convention.

"The letters are a little too large. Try to concentrate a little more on the eye-appeal." Mr. C. H. Jickling, the sponsor of the Poster Club, directs the students in their efforts to portray student life. The purpose of the club is to serve as the advertisers for school organizations by making posters.

This year the club served the school in an added capacity. It was responsible for installing a new Junior building bulletin board by encasing the old one in glass. Credit goes to Mr. Morstadt for helping to plan and erect the board.

The Artists' and Models' ball brought the would-be-painters out in full force to dance in costume. The theme of the dance was a Pirate Jamboree. Captain Kidd appeared in person and the object was to guess who the impersonator was. Albert Detogni was the swash-buckling pirate chief. The Christmas party, weiner roast, and the picnic at the end of the year were among the other successful activities.

The students enjoyed the bi-monthly programs at which different local artists spoke each time.

Officers of the club were Esther Duncan, president; Norborn Emerick, vice-president; Hazel Jester, secretary, first semester, and Rosalie Levin, second semester; and Hannah Leise, treasurer. Virginia Reed was the publicity chairman.

South of the Border and Beyond

"Buenos diaz Muchachos"—the students are greeted by this friendly token as they enter El Cerculo Espanol. Under the capable direction of senorita Evelyn Rummel, the club sponsor, the groups of Spanish-speaking pupils become better acquainted with the customs, language, and culture of Spain and Latin America.

Here they enjoy movies concerning the Spanish-speaking countries, such as "Don Quixote," which was sponsored in cooperation with the English classes. Spanish plays, games, and songs contribute toward the entertainment.

This organization, assisted by the Senior History club, sponsored a Pan-American assembly, in observing the fiftieth anniversary of the Pan-American Union. Manuel Rodriguez, Peter Sanchez, Si Sanchez, and Robert McNeely set the mood by singing Spanish songs. Bob Hoag and Mackie Beeman contributed to the program. Ralph Burnett gave an interesting Pan-American talk. Miss Judith Lopez Diaz, Spanish dancer from Puerto Rico, added to the fiesta atmosphere. Nancy Doolittle presided over the program.

The officers of the club are Marvin Gordon, president; Joe Wentworth, vice-president; Mildred Simcic, secretary; Bill Holmquist, treasurer; and Edward Stetta, program chairman.

They Who Nurture the Wily Ether Waves

Students passing room 310 Jr. any day after school last semester could hear a jumble of buzzes, whistles, and howls coming from within, a sign that amateur radio operators were in the making. The radio-minded boys of this club who were not yet "hams" or amateur radio operators, spent much of their time studying the Morse code in preparation for the government exam. This is the purpose of the WTHS Amateur Radio Association.

A number of trips were taken by the club members during the first semester. First on the list was a trip to WAY, the ship-to-shore station at Lake Bluff. Then followed trips to the "ham shacks" of W9DWQ, W9NWY, W9-GDV, and finally W9EDC.

A transmitter was constructed during the first cemester; a receiver was purchased and finally the officers erected an antoma on the roof of the junior building. The station was able to operate for about a month under the call W9GYW, but as Walter G. Haake, Jr., W9GYW and Edward Goodbout, W9DWQ, the only two licensed "Ops" in the club at the time, were graduated in February, the station was not able to get back on the air until late the next semester, when Leonard Koziol, W9JQD, and Tony Zidank, W9JOX, were able to procure the government licenses.

Officers for the first semester were Walter Haake, president; Edward Goodbout, vice-president; Tony Zidank, secretary; Stanley Chwiedziewicz, treasurer; and Leonard Koziol, sergeant-at-arms.

Serving the organization the second semester in these respective offices were George Smith, Leonard Koziol, Tony Zidank, Stan Chwiedziewicz, and Tony Koncilja.

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. James, the club was able to progress rapidly during the past year.

Battling with Words and Ideas

Waukegan Township high school's debate teams went to bat this year on the old question, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should own and operate the railroads", a question just as vital now as it was thirty years ago when first taken up.

Debates were scheduled with New Trier high school, Grant, Maine, and Kenosha. This is the sixteenth consecutive year that Mr. Sandven's teams have debated with New Trier and Maine high school teams.

Waukegan's affirmative debaters this year were Mary Ann Miletich and Sam Rosen. Negative speakers were Madeline Mackey and Jordan Hillman. Alternates for both teams were Stanley Durka, Esther Ohanian, James Haake, and Esther Rostker.

Some debates are known as "decision" contests in which critic judges make analyses of the cases presented by both teams. Other debates are termed "non-decision" depending upon the wishes of the visiting teams.

Mr. Sandven, the debate coach, encourages the freshmen to try out for the teams, because as he emphasizes, it usually takes three or four years to work up winning debating ability. The debate question for the following year is selected in May in order that team members may work on it during the summer vacation.

Seniors Venture Into City Politics

"Raise your right hand and repeat after me. 'I, Whitie Burnett, do solemnly swear to uphold the duties of my office to the best of my ability.'" In this official manner, George Dietmeyer, student city clerk, swore Mayorfor-a-day, Ralph Burnett, into office.

The day was December 13th; the time was 8:00 a.m.; the place was the City Hall; and the event was Student Government day. Three weeks earlier, Senior assembly had been in a hub-bub as students crowded to the polls to vote for their favorite candidates.

At 8:00 o'clock these student officials, together with the many appointed office holders appeared on the scene. City clerk, Frank Wallin, administered the oath of office to George Dietmeyer, who in turn swore in the other officials. Mayor Talcott wished the students good luck, and the day began.

Typing, slaving over books, and inspecting governmental departments let up at noon when the hard working "city" officials took time out to eat. A banquet was held in the sky room of the Karcher Hotel. Corporation council, Norman Schwartz, introduced the "Mayor". In his after-dinner speech, Whitie stated: "I have learned a lot about the duties of mayor, but the hardest duty is making speeches."

In the evening, the students took charge of the council meeting. The council room was packed with students, parents, and "exofficials". Mayor Talcott presented Whitie with a gavel as a souvenir and the council meeting got underway.

The Junior Safety Council

It is the object of the Junior Safety Council to promote safety in and about the high school. Under the supervision of Mr. Neary, the group meets to formulate and discuss safety measures.

The group visited the Chicago auto show last November. A mock trial was held in January. Those who sat with Judge Brown to learn how a police court operates were: Marie Gabrek, student judge; Joe O'Shea, defendant; Marcia Dembinsky, defence attorney; and John Link, bailiff. Bob McKinley was the arresting officer. The jurors were:

Eugene Pillifant, John Van Sickle, Nelson Lamson, and Roger Skews.

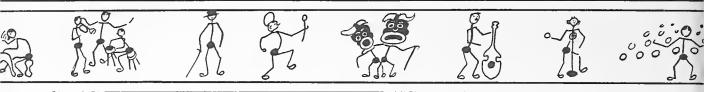

The group sponsored a dance in May. All students and graduates of the driving course were invited. Among the club's other projects were the bicycle club, the weekly display of safety posters, and the distribution of safety bulletins. The group won the Kiwanis' Safety Trophy last year.

First semester officers were: Mary Hogan, president; Marguerite Feiler, secretary; and Doris Johnson, treasurer. Second semester officers were: Bob McKinley, Joe O'Shea, Martha Niemi, and John Link.

Concert Band is Pride of High School

"Hail, Waukegan High! Hail, Waukegan High!" With a rousing blare of music, the band strikes up the school song! The crowd is on its feet; enthusiastically, they sing the school song! The atmosphere is tense; the excitement is high; the stirring music thrills the spectators; they are again ready to spur their team on to victory!

One of the indispensible services of the band is to play for basketball and football games. It is a service that every student knows. Without the cheering music before game time and at the half, the school spirit would fall flat.

Since the city of Waukegan has no uniformed band of its own, our high school band has upheld the musical reputation of the city in any number of parades throughout the Outside of the city, our band has been winning a name for itself. It won its first state contest last year at LaSalle, qualifying it to attend the national contest at Indianapolis, Indiana, where Waukegan made a grand showing. Soloists who placed first were Henry Saam, alto saxophone; Ed Shultis, baritone saxophone; William Bergling, cornet; William Rose, baritone saxophone, and Eric Idstrom, baritone, placed second.

Several ensembles also did well. The saxophone sextet placed first. The members of this group were Henry Saam, Delose Tschabold, Harry Wilson, alto saxes; George Watson, tenor sax; William Rose and Ed Shultis, baritone sax, The brass quartet also placed first with William Bergling and Charles Dalton, playing the cornet; Eric Idstrom, baritone; and Ray Laine, trombone.

The new year of 1940 saw the band making twenty-three entries in the district solo contest and three entries in the ensemble contest.

SOLO ENSEMBLE CONTEST

For the first time, the solo-ensemble contest was held at Waukegan. Varied colored uniforms dotted the corridors; from every room a different sound was heard. The date was March 9th. Two weeks later, on March 23rd, the bands and sight reading competition was held here. More musicians; more winners.

The band was called on for programs at different organizations throughout the year. They responded whole heartedly, and the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, and other civic groups in the city have had the pleasure of hearing them. The solos and ensembles have been called on to present numerous programs.

Spring Concert is Annual Band Climax

On December 14th, the W.T.H.S. bands got in training for their spring concert by presenting a smaller concert in the senior assembly. This fall program was very well received. Soloists were Henry Saam, Eric Idstrom, and Jim Butler.

"It happened at midnight, April 26th!" What happened? A haunted house came to life, with ahosts, slamming doors, mysterious noises, and ear splitting screams, for this was the special number at the Annual Band Concert presented by the W.T.H.S. Junior and Senior Bands. This year, more than 150 pieces played in the concert band. purple and gold of Waukegan's uniforms was enlivened by an occasional maroon, grey, blue, and red uniform, for the best players from along the North Shore became temporary members of our band on April 26th. Our own soloists were Richard Shultis and Henry Saam. There were four guest conductors; Mr. Tallmadge, Mr. Madden, Mr. Finch, and Mr. Harding. The gym was packed not only to hear the home town boys, but also to see the guest artists from other schools. Daniel Cobb of Highland Park, sang; Charlotte Sifert, national champion on the marimba, played; and Robert Abbot, national champion, twirled a baton. Quite a picture was made when the lights were dimmed and only the lighted baton could be seen making a whirling design against the blackness. The Haunted House was the hit of the program. It concerned the town cut-up, who accepted a wager to spend a niaht in the Haunted House. Jauntily, he proceeded on his way, merrily whistling. He entered the house at the stroke of twelve; at first everything was serene; then came a diabolical screech, fiendish laughter, doors slammed, and sepulchral groans were heard. Pursued by this unholy horde, he jumped through a window, and with a shattering of glass and applause, the number ended.

Officers of the band were Henry Saam, president; John Hermansen, vice-president; Stig Carlson, secretary; Louis McCreight, treasurer. Student conductors were Eric Idstrom and John Hermansen; librarians, Richard Faller and James Dunne; drum majors, Richard Jenkinson and Fred Williams.

Junior Band is Proving Ground

If by chance, you are in the Senior assembly third period, and you hear a blare of music, don't be alarmed; it is just the Junior band practicing their notes and scales. It may not sound so experienced, but remember the Junior band of today makes the Senior band of tomorrow, and the aim of every Junior band member is to get into the Senior band. At the annual band concert, they got in training for future years and played several numbers to open the concert.

The Junior band is organized like its big brother. Officers of the Junior band were Kenneth Bowers, president; Bill Bairstow, vice-president; Bill Barney, secretary; William Mueller, treasurer; and John Schultz and Ed Ostrowski, librarians.

The Junior and Senior bands contributed a special treat to the music lovers of Waukegan this fall, when they sponsored the appearance of Bohumir Kryl and his symphony orchestra. This performance was the crowning event of the Waukegan and Lake County concert season. Kryl, termed by critics as the most remarkable cornetist in the world, and his world famous orchestra put on a special concert in the afternoon for the students. It was through the efforts of the band members that tickets were sold and the orchestra brought here.

Although they constitute a very small group in comparison to either the Junior or the Senior Band, the high school orchestra is indispensable to many of the activities of the high school.

Playing at the Pan-American assembly, they provided Spanish melodies suited to the occasion. Their orchestral strains are heard at Commencement exercises, Baccalaureate and Class Night. The members of National Honor Society march in to their accompaniment.

Every day the group can be found in the band room studying the techniques of various instruments, phrasing, and balance. The results they attain are remarkable.

The orchestra plays for school organizations, and no play is put on without their help to entertain between acts. During the year, the orchestra entertained the Woman's Club and various other civic groups in the city.

Officers were John Hermansen, president; Richard Faller, vice-president; Estelle Reilio, secretary. Alf Christiansen and Victor Graham were the librarians.

Otto E. Graham is the instructor of all these groups. It is through his efforts that these young musicians are such a success.

Music Contributes Toward a Full Life

The purpose of the music department is to acquaint the student with the good music of the world, and through knowledge and participation in concerts and musical-dramatic performances to gain poise and control of his mental and physical faculties in presence of others.

The various organizations that contribute toward these achievements are the Chorus, boys' Glee Club, girls' Glee Club, A Capella Choir, and Voice Class. The enrollment in Chorus usually numbers one hundred and it is open to all students who desire to learn to sing. Its chief function is to teach the student the fundamentals of correct singing and to learn to be an ensemble singer. Boys' Glee Club likewise is open to all boys interested in singing. Its work is similar to that of the Chorus. Girls Glee Club is a selective group and they in turn work toward an extensive and perfected repertoire. A Cappella Choir is the goal of all students of Choral Art, for this organization has the privilege of singing the greatest music of all vocal art. Voice class is restricted to only a few students. In this class the student learns the principles of voice production and the art of solo singing.

The Music Department of the Waukegan high school has contributed to the community abundantly. The past year the Choral Music Department gave forty-seven programs. Each year the music department provides the music for the following school functions: Thanksgiving Assembly, Christmas Assembly, Easter Assembly, Baccalaureate Services, Class Nights, and Commencement Exercises. Three major projects are included in their activities.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The purpose of the A Cappella Choir is to sing the greatest music in choral art.

In the "Marriage of Nannette", Betty Faassen, Nancy Blair, Pat Alex, Laura Van Pelt, Richard Greene, Mackie Beeman, Stanley Gamble and Walter Henderson all did excellent work in outstanding roles.

MIXED OCTETTE

OCTETTE IS SELECTIVE

This group has a rather standardized group of selections, and is the largest in the Ensemble group. Membership in the Octette gives individual singers a bit more intensive training in their voice control.

BOYS HAVE GLEE CLUB

This class receives more intensive voice training than any other choral group. To have strong muscles, one must use them continually. That is why daily singing during adolescence makes for a well-developed mature voice.

A Rollicking Three-Act Comedy

"The Marriage of Nannette," concerns the love of Rene, a young French peasant, and beautiful Nannette. Madame Zenobia, Nannette's mother, will not consent to their marriage. Feeling Rene not good enough for her daughter, she has her eye on rich Duke Frederic as a suitable match for Nannette.

The Duke, a frequent visitor at Zenobia's inn, contemplates a fourth marriage. This wife, Heloise, has been won in a poker game. Supposedly the most beautiful woman in France, she has always worn a veil. Nannette's brother and his henchmen kidnap Heloise for ransom, but conform to her wishes not to raise her veil. Zenobia plots to dress Nannette as the veiled, missing Heloise and marry her to the Duke. But Nannette is not convinced that to be rich is better than to marry her lover, Rene. But, when Nannette sees Rene kiss the hand of a beautiful gypsy maid, her jealous nature gets the upper hand; Nannette goes off, convinced that she should marry the Duke. This gypsy is really Heloise's sister Yvonne, posing as a gypsy after her escape from the kidnapers. Henri, pledged to marry the Duke's daughter, Madelon, falls in love with her. Madelon, in turn, loves Hilaire.

Nannette, still thinking Rene false, enters in wedding gown and veil. The Duke, anxious to see his beautiful wife, demands that the wedding begin. The wedding parchment is brought forward. As the Duke is preparing to sign it, a trained bear soizes it and interrupts the ceremony. Rene and Nannette make up; Heloise, who escapes, enters and allows Nannette to gaze on her unveiled beauty. She is a perfect hag! The discovery of the lost bride is loudly acclaimed; the marriage is performed with the bride still veiled; after the ceremony, the duke raises the veil of his bride; he gazes with horror upon his bride. Not caring what happens, he consents to the marriage of Hilaire and Madelon, and Henri and Yvonne. The curtain goes down on a happy ending for all but the sorrowful Duke.

A CHORUS FOR BEGINNERS

Any high school girl interested in music is eligible to enter. This group gives Mr. Schumann a means of discovering the indi Schumann a means of discovering the indimusic department has no record of the individual's grade school music accomplishments.

The chorus is taught to use the singing voice correctly. Singers experiment in ensemble singing and voice blending.

There are about one hundred members in this, the largest of the choral groups. If singers progress, they are promoted to the Girl's Glee Club. The chorus learns a very extensive repertoire so that members may learn to read music proficiently.

GIRLS' TRIO

The girls in this group are all sophomores. Plans are being made to keep them together throughout high school.

Ensemble groups such as the above, and others such as mixed octette, boy's quartet, were formed so that they might represent the entire choral department before civic functions on different occasions. These small groups require less time to prepare a program, and less space in which to present a program.

Dramatics Contributes to Personal Growth

Development of appreciation and taste in dramatic literature, the acting and producing of plays, and the development of the individuality of the student, may all be given as purposes for dramatics in high school.

"Seventeen", a three-act play presented by the Dramatics department, was the first production coached by Miss Doris Dixson, new dramatics instructor. Highly successful, it played to a packed house.

November 10, 1939, was the date set for the exposal of Willie Baxter's trials and tribulations.

Robert Durst was the capable leading man. His affection, resting upon Lola Pratt, was the cause of much hilarity. Lola, Esther Rostker, baby-talked her way into the hearts of the audience as well as into the heart of Willie Baxter. Emma Belle Pierce, was the inquisitive little sister. The long suffering parents were played by Nancy Doolittle and Bob John Jr. Other characters were enacted by John Van Sickle, Robert Tornquist, Ralph Swank, John Andrews, Eleanor O'Gallagher, Eleanor Fredbeck, Sam Rosen, Suzanne Johnson, and Donald Carlson.

On February 2, 1940, Miss Dixson chaperoned a group of Thespians to see Robert Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," starring Raymond Massey. The department sponsored an assembly program, "Rip Van Winkle."

Produce Two Brilliant Senior Plays

The footlights dim; the audience becomes quiet; the curtain rises; the Senior Play is on and that's "Nothing But the Truth".

Inspired by a picture of George Washington, and disapproving of the practices used by his boss to sell stock, Tom Tinsley, as Robert Bennet, rashly, makes a bet of $10,000 that he can tell the truth for twentyfour hours. From then on, our hero is in agony, especially since the money he bet belonged to his fiancee, Gwendolyn Ralston, played by Anita Perry, who had given him the money to double on a "sure thing." Mr. Ralston, Dick Donnelly, and Clarence Van Dusen, those on the receiving end of the bet, make it exceedingly "hot" for him. These parts were taken by Russel Woertz, Kenneth Kuehl, and Norman Schwartz, respectively. Such questions as, "How do you like Ethel's singing?" schemingly are put to Bob, and when the answer is "Terrible!", Grace Larsen, who plays Ethel Clark, promptly bursts into tears. Further complications arise when chorus girls, Mabel and Sable, Louise Perrine and Alice Margoian, appear on the scene. Then it is that Mr. Ralston is sorry he ever made the bet; when Florence Martin, as Mrs. Ralston, demands to know if her husband knows these actresses, Bob tells the truth. Todd Green as Bishop Doran, presents an added bit of comedy when he is swindled in buying some worthless stock and bewails his loss so loudly that he gets it back. Annie Chaderijan is the maid.

The lights brighten; the curtain falls; the the applause is loud; the play is indeed a success..."Nothing But The Truth."

"THE GHOST FLIES SOUTH". 1. Industrious Granny. 2. Ernie and Ernie. 3. Miss Dixson: "This is awful!" 4. Sam: "Crumby looking lawyer!" 5. Ruth, Sam, Pat: "Such poor memories!" 6. Sam, Ernie, Pat, Bob: "You'll have to confess to Morgan." 7. Kermit, Betty, Ernie, Bob: "And Mr. Winthrop put you up to it."

"The Ghost Flies South"

What would you do if you won $400,000 on the stock market, and you'd promised your fiance and his mother, with very set ideas against speculating, that you'd never gamble? That was the problem which Ernestine Dickinson, as Anita Merideth, faced in the June Senior Play. With the help of her sister Diana, played by Pat Alex, and sarcastic Bob John, as Tyler Rankin, they devise an Uncle William who is supposed to have left her the money, and "The Ghost Flies South" comes to life.

Emma Belle Pierce, as Granny presents another problem. "William, William who?" she demands when told that her son has died in the West. But, with her ever failing memory, she is convinced she had a son William Bantry and hauls out picture albums and the family Bible to identify him. One minute she remembers William perfectly and the next has forgotten all about him. Eldene Loftus in the role of Cordelia, the colored maid, admits Lawyer Homer Reed, better known as Sam Rosen, and his jealous and tempermental wife, Ruth Schiff on the scene, who help to establish the bona fide of the story. However, serious - minded Morgan Winthrop and his mother, played by Nick Goldschmidt and Charlotte Mix, are not so easily taken in. Trying to teach Anita a lesson they introduce Buck Hollis and Chaquita Bantry, the partner and squaw of William. These parts are played by Kermit Kramer and Betty Meekins. The story winds up to a swift and surprising conclusion marking the end of Uncle William, the Senior Play, and the last activity of the school year as "The Ghost Flies South."

It's All in the Making of an Annual

With a "Let 'er roll" and a rumble of presses the 1940 Annual 'W' goes to press. After scuffing through the pages of the year-book, the saddle shoes of the staff are thoroughly worn and scarred. But they have afforded many hours of enjoyment — and worry, too.

The editorial staff met with Mr. Meslow in Junior 147 every morning. With a yen to do something different, the group first sought a suitable theme for the 1940 book. Carol Bidinger, Doris Curlee, Eldene Loftus, and Charlotte Mix, veterans of the 1939 staff, assumed the leadership necessary to get the work under way. Weeks of patient search, a brainstorm, and it was decided that the era of saddle shoes be recorded between two covers.

Another task that faced the staff was the subscription campaign. Following a spirited drive, Eldene was soon busy tabulating the results of the homeroom contest.

"Hold it!" came next. Doris had scheduled a busy two weeks for taking pictures of individuals, classes and organizations. Weeks afterwards Carol, Bob John, and Anita Lewis were still busy recording names and identifying pictures.

Seniors will remember the questionnaires that had to be filled, and well do the typists remember too, they had to copy them. The task of write-ups fell mainly upon Jo Anne Kirkham and Charlotte Mix. Up until the very deadline they were busy writing and re-writing the thousands of words necessary to describe the varied activities of the many organizations.

ANNUAL ARTISTS IN JUNIOR 101

Careful, Jeanette, don't Maas it up! Front row: Jeanette Maas, Mary Carrico Back row: Laurel Piper, Irene Flanjaik, Elsie Darmstadt

Division pages and other art work had to be planned and executed. Many ideas were obtained at the N.S.P.A. convention in Chicago, and soon Miss Frances Higley was busy supervising the efforts of her staff of artists, among whom were: Mackie Beeman, Ann Blazevich, Don Blessing, Mary Carrico, Elsie Darmstadt, Esther Duncan, Irene Flanjaik, Jeanette Maas, Vera Mitchell, Edward Novak, Tom O'Grady, Carolyn Perry, Laurel Piper, Al Podobnick, Virginia Reed, Marion Soderquist, Edward Tomkovich, Laura Van-Pelt, Bill Zupkus.

When most of the year's sports contests were over, John Jerusis recorded the results for the sports section, while Mary Dudley contributed the material to complete the section on girls' sports. Among other students not regularly enrolled on the staff who contributed directly in making the 1940 yearbook were: Lorraine Deibler and Marjorie Harris, write-ups, Tom Tinsley, pictures, and Janet Gerlich, Virginia DeVolk, and Mary Hogan, typing. New to the work of publishing an annual were Rosalie Levin and Esther Rostker who joined the staff second semester.

Financing a yearbook is in itself a task. The budgeting must be carefully done or there would be no Annual. Ads must be sold. Directed by Mr. Schoenoff, Patty Alex, Ernestine Dickinson, Frank Palmer and Norman Schwartz took care of the advertisements.

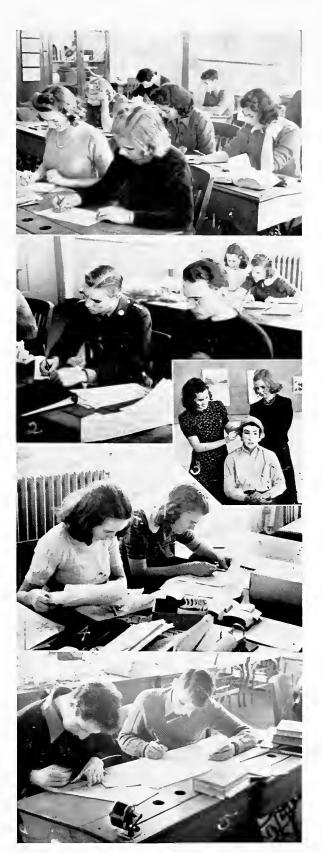

Slowly but surely the dummy specifications were being fulfilled. Arduously, those last days, and nights, too, of tiring work passed. The day came; the staff breathed a sigh of relief as the last copy went to press. With bated breath they await the outcome.

They Publish the Weekly "W" World

With a gradual build-up from Monday morning through Thursday, the work of the "W" World Staff reaches a weekly climax as the issue goes to press and is ready for distribution before classes begin on Friday morning. This done, it is time to plan for the following week's issue.

Publishing the school's official newspaper each week affords an opportunity to every aspiring young journalist. There is not a dull moment in an entire semester for those who meet the challenge.

Members of the advanced class in Journalism bear the responsibility of publishing the weekly newspaper. They receive considerable assistance from the students in the beginning classes who serve as cub reporters.

Assigning stories, covering beats, scheduling and making interviews, writing and rewriting articles, copyreading, recording, proofreading, writing headlines, planning and building dummy pages, checking and double checking—it's all in the day's routine for members of the "W" World staff.

In addition to the editorial work, there is selling of advertising space, and subscriptions, the keeping of records, maintaining exchange lists, and distributing the copies of the weekly issue to student subscribers.

Averaging more than six pages per issue, the "W" World provided more reading matter this past year than ever before. Weekly news pictures were introduced with the beginning of the second semester and it proved a decided asset to reader interest. The pictures were scheduled and taken by "W" World staff photographers.

Several staff delegates represented the "W" World at the annual convention of the National Scholastic Press Association held at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago in November.

The Hobo Rally, sponsored by the staff and held at the close of the first semester, has become a traditional affair eagerly anticipated by the entire school. A staff picnic held jointly with the Annual staff, makes for a pleasant finale to a busy year.

It's Friday morning and the "W" World must be delivered by 8:30.

Council Boosts Athletics

With the election of officers early in the semester, the Athletic Council resumed its activities for the school year. Officers elected were: president, Bob John; vice-president, Dick Turner; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Makela. Mr. Jickling and Mr. Bauernfeind are the sponsors of the organization.

This organization is the backbone of all athletics in the school. Council members have charge of providing tickets for all athletic contests; they provide posters and distribute them to be put in store windows announcing the future games of the season. Besides this, the council publicizes all school sports through local newspapers. One of the most successful publicity programs carried out this year was the distribution of stickers for auto windows; the stickers printed in school colors contained the entire schedule of football games.

Synchronize School Pep

SSSS! Boom! Waukegan! AHHHHH! The skyrocket, a difficult yell, is executed perfectly by the Waukegan rooters. Without leaders, the rooting would most assuredly fall flat. That is the purpose of the Cheerleaders' Club, to train boys for cheerleading.

Throughout the football and basketball seasons, the club meets every Tuesday and Thursday. John Tonin, Nazareth Chaderjian, and Robert Chalfant were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Practice sessions are held Thursday nights under the direction of Mr. Cole, the club sponsor. The boys brush up on the old yells and learn new ones, to help spur "W" teams on to victory.

The activities of this club are helpful in building morale among the cheerleaders. The group works hard and faithfully. Not a game is there in basketball or football, but finds these boys are on the job. "Yea team!"

RALPH D. BROWN

A Fine Coaching Staff

■ Introducing Mr. R. D. Brown, athletic director. Besides being head of the athletic department, Mr. Brown is also in charge of physical education and is varsity basketball coach.

When in the fall of 1923 Mr. Brown came to Waukegan to take charge of the athletic department, the school was not as large as it is today. Year after year Mr. Brown has seen the school progress in size and in athletic prowess. A new gymnasium sprang up during his stay, and it is one of the finest in the state. A mere handful of boys competed in sports in those days, but now Mr. Brown has charge of 800 athletes.

Coaching 800 boys is not a one-man job. Under Mr. Brown's supervision is a coaching staff composed of:— Heavyweight football: Mark Wilson and John Morley; frosh-soph football: Leo Singer and Herbert Canine; freshman football: Steve Drew and George Hughes; cross-country: Dave Fields; tennis: Peter Suchanski; heavyweight basketball: R. D. Brown and Leo Singer; frosh-soph basketball: Herbert Canine. In intramural sports; basketball: Al Grosche; boxing and wrestling: M. G. Thompson; spring football: Mark Wilson and Leo Singer; track: Steve Drew and Dave Fields.

Now we know why Waukegan maintains such fine teams; the coaching staff consists of the finest men available.

They Have All Won Major Letter Awards

The "W" Club is an athletic organization with only boys as members. The club was organized two years ago following a petition signed by major letter winners and was approved by Mr. Thalman and the Board of Education.

Before an athlete is qualified for membership, he must have a major letter in one of the following sports: football, basketball, track, swimming, boxing, wrestling, or tennis. The purpose of the club is to promote clean sportsmanship, respect for the school and its colors, and clean living.

Officers of the club elected last year were: President, Johnny Jerusis; vice-president, Leonard Sczepanek, secretary-treasurer, Ralph Burnett. Officers hold their positions for a semester. The sponsor of the club for the present is Ralph D. Brown. Mr. Brown was selected by the members. There are no other adult members in this club.

One purpose of the "W" Club is to see boys who have earned a Major letter do not disgrace the school by wearing their letter on a sweater other than a Northwester purple in color. Letters must not be loaned to other persons or worn on garments other than a regulation sweater. A member found violating this ruling is warned to correct his mistake or he will be punished. If found guilty, the violator is expelled from the club, and the letter which he gave away or wore on an outlawed sweater or jacket is destroyed. "W" pins which members received must not be worn by anyone but the member to whom issued. Violaters of this rule are treated the same as violaters of the "W" ruling.

The club sponsors one dance and a picnic each school year. The proceeds are used to buy a useful object for the school.

The club serves as a motivating factor for future athletes who hope to earn their Major letters. It is up to these future athletes to maintain the high standard which the club has set.

The club sold candy at the regional tournament games here; they also feted the Morton basketball squad in the high school cafeteria after their game with Waukegan.

MARK E. WILSON

The Making of a Team

A football team represents the combined friendships, loyalty, enthusiasm and abilities, both physical and mental, of every member of the squad. The greater length of time over which these qualities pyramid, the more successful will be the team. In the case of a high school team, four years is the ultimate.

The 1939 team was a true example of what sports should exemplify. Being the lightest team to represent our school in the past ten years, it was necessary for each member to put more into the game than his heavier opponent. This was done from the first game to the last, and the season was finished with a climax that was worth all it cost in the way of effort.

Every group naturally places the responsibility of leadership where it can best be carried, and rightfully the only three lettermen from the 1938 team rose to the occasion. They were co-captains Alex Kapter and Johnnie Jerusis, and quarter-back Leonard Sepanek.

One is always repaid for the amount of effort which he puts into an undertaking by the satisfaction realized at the end, and no doubt, the benefit derived from being a member of this football squad will increase in importance in the lives of each player as time goes on.

Varsity Football

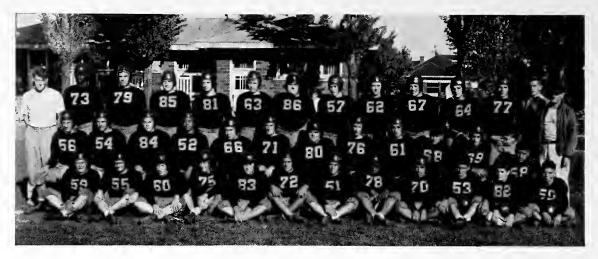

With only three lettermen from last year's squad, Mark Wilson and his assistant, Jack Morley, set out to mould a team around John Jerusis, Alex Kapter and Leonard Sepanek.

When Mark issued the call for candidates for the varsity squad in early fall, fifty football players reported. Out of this huge number, twenty-three football players were awarded major "W"s. They were: John Bakshis, Ophell Bell, Virgil Burkey, Bill Crump, Richard Greene, Robert Groat, James Haake, Walter Hutton, Johnny Jerusis, Alex Kapter, Robert Niemi, Wendall Rivera, Leonard Sepanek, Mike Seremjian, Bill Sitzman, Milton Shatswell, Carl Staben, Carl Swanson, Ralph Scheve, Paul True, Tom Vasta, Don Williams, and Elmer Sorsa, mgr.

Minor "W"s were awarded to: Elmer Neville, John Haroian, Stanley Wakefield, John Kedekein, Ed Kirn and Jim Kapoulis.

John Jerusis, Alex Kapter and Leonard Sepanek were named on the News Suns All-Lake-County team, and on the Post's All-Star Team; Bill Crump was also named on the All-Star team. Alex Kapter was voted a place on the Third All-State team.

Members of the local American Business Club feted the entire varsity squad at its annual football banquet. Vern Leueleen, former football full-back of Nebraska University, now a member of the Green Bay Packers coaching staff, was the guest speaker.

After finishing a successful season Coach Wilson said, "The squad won four games, tied one and lost three during the season."

Following are scores and a brief summary of the games played during the 1939 season.

an 0 Crane 0

The opening game was played with Crane. Not being a league game, the locals polished up on their offensive and defensive tactics. Most of the game was defensive on the part of both teams. Sepanek, Greene, and Crump smothered the air attack of Crane by constantly intercepting their passes.

Waukegan 21

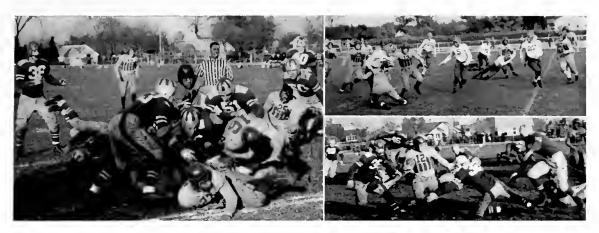

Marshall 0

Meeting up with an inexperienced Marshall team our locals found it easy going and ran over Marshall for their first victory of the season. Displaying a fine defense which Marshall could not break through spelled defeat for them. A pass from Sepanek to Bakshis gave Waukegan its first score. The other two touchdowns were made by Rivera and Crump. Sepanek and his educated toe converted the extra points after each touchdown.

Waukegan 7

Evanston 12

Facing a strong, experienced Evanston team for Waukegan's first league game on Waukegan's field. Waukegan tasted the bitterness of their first defeat of the season. Scoring for Waukegan was done by Crump in the second quarter, Sepanek booted the extra point.

New Trier 0

Waukegan 7

Oak Park 16

Traveling to New Trier to play its second league game, Waukegan found itself on the better end of a 3-0 count. It was a nip and tuck battle for both teams. Each team unable to score through the line, resorted to passes, but to no avail. In the last three minutes of play Waukegan had possession of the ball on New Trier's 30 yard line. From here Sepanek booted a field goal which sailed smack between the uprights for three points, this being the only score of the game. Bill Sitzman shared honors with Sepanek.

Oak Park, champs of the Suburban League for the last four years, kept up its reputation as this year's champs by defeating Waukegan 16 to 7.

Kapter blocked a kick attempted by Oak Park, which Waukegan recovered deep in Oak Park's territory. On the next few downs Swanson took the ball around end for the score. Sepanek, as usual, booted the extra point. Jerusis played the best game of his career, constantly breaking through Oak Park's line and breaking up their plays.

Waukegan 7

Highland Park 14

Over-confidence brought defeat to Waukegan. Highland Park's Little Giants, bitter over defeats dealt them in the past were out for revenge against Waukegan. They defeated Waukegan 14 to 7. Swanson scored for Waukegan on an end run. Sepanek converted the extra point. A last minute rally by Waukegan failed.

Waukegan 7

Provise 6

"W" Gridders scored their third victory in the league over a strong Proviso eleven. Bill Sitzman made a beautiful 56 yard run, which was the source of the touchdown to follow. Bill Crump scored after plunging through the line. Sepanek entered the picture again to score extra point.

Waukegan 27

Morton 0

Finishing the last game in style, Waukegan romped over Morton to the tune of 27-0. Outpassing and outplunging the Morton outfit showed what an improvement the locals have made during the season. Swanson, Hutton, and Crump scored for Waukegan. Sepanek converted the extra points.

Frosh-Soph Football

Coaches Sinaer's and Canine's froshsoph squad failed to win a game this season. They played heads-up ball throughout, but with the breaks against them.

Nineteen minor "W"s were awarded to: Ahrens, Allen, Barney, Burnett, Bujan, Damos, Emerick, Johnson, McLendon, Micholoski, Morley, O'Flaherty, Owens, Roemer, Shultis, Smith, Spose, Valvanis, Staskiewicz, and managers, Adelson and Nutall. Numerals were awarded to: Barney, Karlos, Null, and Gelling.

Frosh Football

Arriving fresh from grade school the frosh football aspirants were ready for anything. Steve Drew, frosh coach, taught them the fundamentals of the game such as; blocking, tackling, passing, and how to play a position.

Playing a series of seven games against various schools in and around Lake and Cook counties the frosh showed signs of talent by winning two of those games.

Players who were awarded numerals and who will be future varsity material in a few years were: Abdula, Bleck, Germer, Hagerty, Hollister, Jankauskas, Kenik, Killoran, Kirn, LaBarbara, LaPapa, Niemi, and Novak.

Heralding Waukegan's Most Popular Sport

BOB PIERCE

Varsity forward, member of "W" tournament squad, and Suburban League individual scoring champion for the 1939-'40 season.

Basketballs beating a rhythmical tattoo against the backboards in the gym, announced the arrival of the basketball season to WTHS.

R. D. Brown, varsity mentor, had plenty of material from last year's squad to form the nucleus of the 1939-40 team.

Flashing through a season of rough and ready style of basketball, the locals finished in fourth place in the Suburban league with eight wins and four losses.

During the Christmas holidays the Waukegan cagers traveled to Dubuque, Iowa to play Dubuque high school's cage team. After a hard fought battle which ended in a tie, 35 to 35, Pierce put in the winning basket after a few minutes of overtime. The final score was 37 to 35 in favor of Waukegan. From there the locals traveled to Fulton, Illinois where they emerged the victors by the score 36 to 33.

Waukegan also defeated Moline on the local court, 43 to 41. Moline, incidentally, were runners-up in this year's state finals.

Earn Letters and Other Honors

One of the best games witnessed this year was against Oak Park. With three minutes and five seconds to play and with Waukegan losing, 38 to 28, Pierce came to the rescue with eight points. Smrtnik dropped two free throws, knotting the game at 38-all. Sepanek garnered a beautiful hook shot at the sound of the horn, putting Waukegan ahead 40 to 38.

Bob Pierce and Bried were given positions on the News-Sun All-Lake-County basketball team.

The following received Major "V"'s: Ray Adams, Alex Anastoff, Henry Bried, Ralph Burnett, Alex Kapter, Ernie Kowal, Leonard Mansfield, Robert Pierce, Leonard Sepanek, Leo Smrtnik, Carl Swanson, and Elmer Sorsa, (Mgr.).

Minor "W" 's went to: George Kerkorian, Leslie Millholin, Elmer Neville, Ed Pasiewicz, Bill Reilly, LeRoy Sackman, Bill Sitzman, Roger Tennyson, and Stanley Wakefield.

Cagers Battle in Two Tournaments

Following an assignment which has become almost traditional, Waukegan was again chosen as the scene of the State Regional tournament playoff.

Picking ten of his best players, Coach Brown set forth to seek honors in the regional tournament, and came through in top shape, defeating all comers. Waukegan then went to Elgin to the sectional tournament where they were promptly eliminated by Waterman.

TOURNAMENT PLAY

Waukegan 41

Maine 26

Entirely outclassed by Waukegan, Maine did not offer much competition for the locals in the first regional game.

Waukegan 46

Palatine 37

Meeting a strong Palatine team the locals had to put on a little pressure before coming out the victors in the second game of the tournament. This was probably the best game of the tournament.

Waukegan 47

Libertyville 27

Putting up a strong defensive fight in the first half of the game, but finally cracking under Waukegan's fast break, Libertyville was defeated by Waukegan 47 to 27 in the regional championship clash.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

Waukegan 26

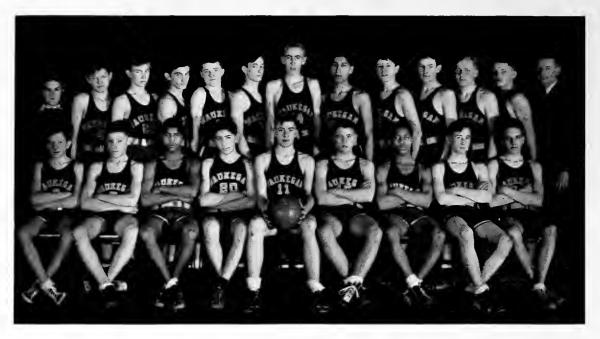

Waterman 33

Traveling to Elgin to play in the sectional tournament, Waukegan's first game was played against a strong Waterman five. Outclassed and puzzled by Waterman's style of play, Waukegan was unable to keep up, Waterman winning 26 to 33, thus eliminating Waukegan from the sectional running. It was the first time during the entire season that Waukegan had been held scoreless in the first quarter.

First and Second Year Boys See Action

Consisting mostly of sophomores who had had some experience in their freshman year, the frosh-soph squad outdid the varsity by tying for second place with Oak Park. Mike Zakar won the individual scoring championship for the frosh-soph division in the Suburban League with a total of 139 points. Narcy Gugala, Zakar's playing mate, finished third in the scoring column.

Eight boys saw enough action to be eligible for minor "W"'s. They were: Adelson, (Mgr.), Damos, Fiddyment, Gugala, Miholic, Owens, Staskiewicz, and Zakar.

A group of enthusiastic freshmen reported to Steve Drew for the frosh squad. Working hard with Steve throughout the entire basketball season the frosh team formed out into a well balanced five. Playing 10 games of which they won 5 and lost 5, is a good average for a frosh team. Romeo, Burnett, and Wakefield were the boys who sparked the attacks of the frosh team. Tanksters Have Good Season

Coach Morley's mermen enjoyed one of the best seasons in years, finishing in fourth place in the Suburban League. A well balanced team was forming into shape until January's graduating class put a dent in coach Morley's squad. Waukegan's first swimming meet was against Highland Park; it ended in a tie.

Kenosha sank Waukegan in their second meet, but the "W" mermen came back in the next three meets and outswam Highland Park, Morton, and Proviso. After enjoying three victories, Waukegan was pushed under water for the last three meets by Oak Park, New Trier, and Evanston.

Major letter winners were: Clapham, Dietmeyer, Dorban, Greene, Hewitt, Korpi, Leonaitis, Tinsley, Seveska (Mgr.), and Prusilla.

FROSH-SOPH SWIMMING

Coach Canine's junior mermen did not fair so well, losing all their matches except against Proviso. The frosh-sophs placed last in the League. Most of the fellows will form the nucleus for next year's varsity squad. Minor "W" letters were won by; Dowden (Mgr.), Gilmore, Goerler, Morley, and Simmons.

MASTERS OF THE PUTTING GREEN

With only three-letter men returning, Coach Morley set about to rebuild his golf team. Waukegan got off to a grand start, defeating Antioch 12½ to 2½. Playing Antioch again, and repeating with victory Waukegan downed Antioch 10-5. Meeting up next with Highland Park's well organized team, Waukegan was defeated 11 to 4. In the next game Waukegan entirely outputted Morton's five and defeated them to the tune of 13½ to 1½.

The last three matches Waukegan played were lost. The teams to which Waukegan bowed were: New Trier $13\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$; Proviso 10 to 5; Oak Park $11\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$.

Minor "W" 's were awarded to; Charles Kolbrick, Robert Pierce, and Edward Tomkowicz.

Tennis Attracts Many Enthusiasts

Starting practice early in the season in the gymnasium, the tennis boys get into shape for their seasonal schedule of games. While working out in the gymnasium until the weather permits them to practice outdoors, the tennis squad gets pointers from Coach Suchanski.

The squad did not fare so well last year, losing all their matches except one. Playing New Trier, and Evanston, Highland Park, Oak Park, and Morton in succession, the local net artists lost to each school. The only match Waukegan won was against Kenosha.

Minor "W"'s were awarded to: Sam Rosen, Bob John, Kermit Kramer, Robert Weismantel, Iggy H. Palauskas, Pete Rettig, and Jerry Katz.

Opening the 1940 season early in May, Pete's proteges scored a win over Warren in their initial competition. Among the 1940 racket artists were Gordon, Weismantle, Katz, Rosen, Stern, Allen, Sisty, and Lockwood.

Varsity Track

Coaches Steve Drew's and Dave Field's fleet--footed tracksters had very few chances to show their abilities during the past season. They first encountered Highland Park's cinder beaters and were nosed out 57 to 56. Traveling to Lake Forest they downed their opponents 68 to 49. Next encountering Liberty-ville's fast stepping team, the locals lost 67 to 57. In the next contest Waukegan was trampled by Racine 65 to 48. In the final meet the locals were completely annihilated by Kenosha 90 to 23.

Major "W" letters were awarded to: Captain Ted Wiechecki; Lawrence Van Treeck, Jack Colgrove, Ralph Burnett, John Jerusis, Alex Kapter, Robert Whitaker, Richard Kaymen, Roosevelt Barrett, Ben Baillie, and Don Ashurst, manager.

Frosh-Soph Track

Starting out as freshmen and sophomores in the field of track events and gradually perfecting their form in running, broad-jumping, discus throwing, and other events, the frosh-soph track team represents the future varsity track stars of W.T.H.S. Freshmen who were exceptionally good were put into competition with the sophomores.

The frosh-soph team competed in three meets which were against; Lake Forest, Libertyville and Highland Park; they lost to each school with the scores: 76 to 36; 57 to 46; 64 to 40. The frosh team competed in two meets against Highland Park and Maine, winning the first meet, 57 to 32 and losing the second meet, 60 to 53.

Minor letters were awarded to; Evans, Korpi, Wakefield, Rangus, Neville, Kramontha, Laquidas, and Dowe, mgr.

Frosh numerals were awarded to Morley, Fiddyment and Bujan.

Varsity Baseball

Starting early in February the varsity baseball squad coached by Al Grosche shaped out well for the season. Waukegan tied with New Trier for third place with six losses and six wins a piece. Morton was in first place with eleven wins and only one loss.

With only a few lettermen returning, Al's team proceeded to prepare itself for better or for worse. The first game found Waukegan defeating Arlington Heights 6 to 2. The locals then were knocked for a loop by

New Trier whitewashed the locals in their next game, 3 to 0. Going suddenly on a winning streak, Al's boys won the next four games; Oak Park, 4 to 3, Evanston, 6 to 2, Niles, 4 to 1, and Arlington Heights, 2 to 0. Waukegan's winning streak was broken by Dundee, who tied them 4 to 4.

Waukegan then lost the next two games to Proviso, 4 to 2, and Evanston 9 to 6. The following two games found Waukegan in the victory stride again, taking Dundee 6 to 0 and Arlington Heights, 16 to 7. After losing the next game to New Trier, 6 to 3, the locals came back and shut out Highland Park, 11 to 0, then repeated by licking Proviso, 7 to 3. The last two games were lost to Morton, 4 to 0, and Highland Park, 5 to 2.

Frosh-Soph Baseball

The frosh-soph team, coached by Leo Singer, played a schedule of sixteen hard games, losing the first three games to Morton, Warren and Oak Park respectively. In their next game, Waukegan trimmed Barrington. Next they lost to New Trier and Oak Park after hard fought battles. Waukegan next trounced Evanston and Evanston in a return game nosed Waukegan out by one run. The next two games were also won by Waukegan from Barrington and Warren. Out of the remaining six games, the frosh-sophs managed to win two. Minor "W"'s were awarded to: Grosche, Sackman, Burkey, Baughman, Tennyson, Staskiewicz, Hoffman, Millholin, Glusic, Van Treeck, Iverson, Lund, Pankiewicz, and Gerchar.

Girls' Athletics

Miss Grace Rundquist is the head of the Girls' Physical Education Department as well as being Dean of Girls. When any girl is in need of financial aid or encounters other difficulties that interfere with her school work she goes to Miss Rundquist for help. Miss Rundquist is also one of the sponsors of the Girls' League.

Miss Virginia Dennis and Miss LaNore Morehouse are the two women Physical Education instructors at WTHS. Miss Dennis directs First Aid classes, gym classes, and afterschool gymnastic activities. Miss Morehouse instructs in First Aid, in water activities, and in tumbling. She is also the faculty sponsor of the Dolphin Club. Miss Morehouse and Miss Dennis are the sponsors of the G.A.A.

"Step right up, folks! Try your luck!" The booths were red, yellow, green, all colors imaginable. The gym was converted into a large carnival hall. Crowds rushed the portrait booth where the caricatures of the teachers were hanging. "Oh look! There's a picture of Mr. Fields. Isn't it a scream!" The success of this annual Penny Carnival was due to the G.A.A. and the Girls' League.

A novel Leap Year Dance, (Lil' Abner and Sadie Hawkins) was the biggest success of the year. The girls really got into the spirit of the season and took the boys on a "turn about date." The girls even bought corsages of vegetables to don on their "Lil' Abners." One evening was enough; realizing all the worries and trouble that the boys have to go through, they decided it was far better to be taken out.

Officers of the club were: Jeanette Spoor, president; Katherine Sneesby, vice president; Mary Dudley, secretary; Ruth Davison, treasurer.

The Sports Leaders were: Helen Carney, bowling; Betty Jereb, tumbling; Katherine Sneesby, swimming; Vivian Butler, archery.

Miss LaNore Morehouse and Virginia Dennis are the sponsors.

Organize Dolphin Club

The WTHS Dolphin Club was organized on January 10, 1940. The purpose of the club is to promote swimming and the interest in swimming among the girls. To become members of this club a girl must have passed either the Junior or Senior Life Saving and the Water Safety course. The reason why these qualifications are so high is the fact that all girls who have passed their Life Saving have put in a minimum of twenty hours practice beforehand and this shows that they have a great interest in swimming and are really accomplished aquatic performers.

Charter members of the club are Vivian Butler, Mary Dudley, Vivian Ekkela, Eleanor Fredbeck, Gloria Henby, Helena Lewis, Frances Peterson, Joan Schleck, Betty Schlung and Katherine Sneesby. The members elected Katherine Sneesby as their president and Vivian Butler as secretary; Sophie Norkus was made the business manager of the club. Later the members voted Lillian Huttleston, Evelyn Newell, Ruth Christiansen, Betty Beschenbossel and Margaret Schroeder, into the organization.

Through the auspices of the club, the appearance of Claudia and Mary Eckert in a swimming demonstration was made possible. The girls saw a Water Ballet contest at Shawnee Country Club and they were hostesses at the class swimming meet and the State Telegraphic Meet, here at the High School. Their biggest project of the year was the Water Show, the theme of which was sychronized swimming. Miss LaNore Morehouse is the sponsor of this group.

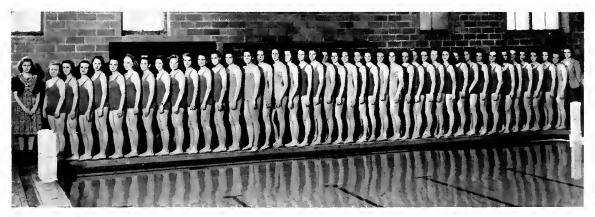

A Gala Water Show

Last spring, the water show which the girls' athletic department put on was divided into several acts some of which were as follows: "Japanese Lantern", "Virginia Reel", and "Stunts".

Marjorie Monahan was the general chairman of this event; Mary Dudley, tickets and programs; Jane Maxell, publicity; Jeanette Spoor, decorations; Katherine Sneesby, properties; Roberta Smith reception; and Shirley Pitts, music. Both Miss Morehouse and Miss Dennis sponsored this performance.

Tumbling is Popular

Tumbling classes were started about the first of November and ran through April. The work consisted of the performance of such acrobatic stunts as somersaults, cartwheels, and others. Miss Morehouse has trained the girls to be able to adapt their stunts to the diving board. The tumbling tricks are very effective in the annual Water Show. Excellent performers in this field are Jeanette Spoor, Harriet Wolters, Anna Beth Shea, and Dorothy Yumplot. The tumblers meet every Tuesday night after school in the Girls' Club room. Miss Morehouse is sponsor and Betty Jereb is sports manager.

Introduce Safety Classes

Life Saving and Water Safety classes were introduced at WTHS last September and the first group of girls took their final tests in December. They really know something about saving a drowning person and how to treat the victim after the rescue. The girls purchased special books on Life Saving and Water Safety and they had to know it from cover to cover. Besides the actual test in the water, there was an oral test of five questions for the Junior Life Savers and a long written test for the Senior Life Savers.

These classes meet every Wednesday and Friday at 3:15 under the direction of Miss Morehouse.

Emphasize First Aid

First Aid is the immediate temporary treatment given in case of accident or sudden illness before the services of a physician can be secured.

Fifty per cent of all accidents that result in death happen in the home. The Frosh girls of today will be the housewives of tomorrow. That is one reason why this course is considered very important.

First Aid is a freshman educational class which meets one period each week for one school year. It is a Junior course in the large program of the American Red Cross and at the end of the course the girls who pass are classified as Junior First Aiders. The classes are taught by the Misses Dennis, Morehouse, and Rundquist.

A CLASS IN ARCHERY

Feminine Robin Hoods

Archery is a new sport at W.T.H.S. Miss Dennis is the faculty sponsor of this group. This year the followers of Robin Hood's pastime got off to a poor start because of bad weather, but a few girls learned how to handle their archery tackle with admirable skill. A few practices were held at Weiss field and others in the gym. This class met every day at 3:15 and the girls declared it great fun while it lasted.

Some of the outstanding beginners, for whom Miss Dennis has high hopes are: Betty Spoor, Betty Jereb, Bernice Trepanier, and Julia Gordan.

Many of the girls who first tried their skill at archery in the newly organized high school class will have an opportunity to practice this increasingly popular sport during their summer vacation.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball started off with a bang. From thirty to forty girls were out every Tuesday and Thursday for this fast moving sport.

Miss Dennis was the faculty sponsor for this group and she drilled the girls strenuously for the Telegraphic Shooting Meet which was held the first part of March. This meet was like the Telegraphic Swimming Meet but the points were recorded and averaged and then telegraphed to the central G.A.A. office. When the final score is received every school participating receives a telegram announcing the winner. Although WTHS didn't place this year, the girls have placed other years.

Katherine Sneesby, Rosemary Puckett, Maxine Etter and Dorothy Jacobs were some of the high scorers this year.

Volley Ball

Another popular sport this year was volley ball. Every Tuesday and Thursday at 3:15 the three volley-ball courts were filled. This sport was especially popular with the enthusiastic group of Fresman athletes.

Miss Dennis headed this group and she had her hands full trying to keep the girls in their own courts.

Some of the more consistant players were Margree Harkey, Mary Joknis, Rosemary Puckett and Katherine Sneesby.

Badminton

Badminton is a game in which the player employs a long-handled racket to boost a little feathered "birdie" over a net, only to have someone bat it back. This goes on until someone misses and then it starts all over again!

Now that this sport has been briefly explained you will realize what fun the girls have and why they go for this new afterschool sport. It proved a hit with some of the Juniors and Seniors, because it is becoming one of the most popular summer sports.

Rosemary Puckett, Maxine Etter, Dorothy Jacobs and Katherine Sneesby were some of the most active players. This group met every Friday at 3:15 in the gym at first, but the sport became so popular that Miss Dennis soon had to extend the session to Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday.

There's Something About a Soldier

Yes, there's something about a soldier! With a roll of drums and the flashing of sabers, the R.O.T.C. unit swings down Washington street toward Weiss Field, five-hundred strong! Their brass buttons and rifles are gleaming in the sunlight. This is the Annual Federal Inspection, when the R.O.T.C. boys strut their stuff, and a thrilling day it is for every WTHS student.

"Streamlined" drill appeared in the regiment last fall when the United States War Department issued orders to all R.O.T.C. units to take up a new type of drill devised to make the army maneuvers more efficient.

Major Charles S. Pettee relieved Major George A. Hunt from his duties as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at WTHS at the beginning of the school year 1939-'40. Having been P. M. S. & T. at the Oregon State University, from where he was transferred here, Major Pettee was well acquainted with the work of the R. O. T. C.

BELOW: Major Pettee gives Officer Dick Salsbury instructions to be relayed to the cadet unit.

Cadets Make Social Splurge

The biggest event of the year was the Military Ball, under the lead of Major Pontus Johnson. Gold medals, gold braid, khaki uniforms, and a rainbow array of feminine formals, together with the red, white, and blue of the military background, made a colorful setting for that outstanding social event.

Hundreds of flags decked the gym; red, white, and blue streamers lined the walls; and over all, a gigantic American flag formed a patriotic ceiling. Trenches were formed in the four corners of the gym; machine guns, sandbags, and all the paraphernalia of warfare. Barbed wire barriers kept the arriving couples on the right route.

'Present sabers!" was the command, and a double line of officers raised their sabers to form an arch. Through this arch marched the "Little Colonel" and her three "Little Majors" elected by the popular vote of the couples attending the Hop. Jo Anne Kirkham, as Little Colonel, presided over the ball and led the grand march with Virginia Reed, Jeanette Spoor, and Pearl Stewart, the little Majors. Mayor Talcott presented Jo Anne with two eagle pins, the army ensignia for

Colonel. She also received a five-pound box of candy, while Pearl, Jeanette, and Virginia were awarded Major's ensignias and one-pound boxes of candy.

EEEEEE! SSSSSS! Boom, Bang, Crash! Amidst the screaming of sirens, the bursting of bombs, the exploding of shells, the odor of mustard gas, and the rat-a-tat-tat of machine gun fire, the orchestra was heard faintly playing "Home Sweet Home" as the lights again flooded the sham-battle field and the real field of a happy evening. The decontamination squad, decked out in gas proof clothing and masks appeared to counteract the effect of the mustard gas. Many favorable comments were heard after the dance. The WTHS cadets had scored again.

Officers Form Club

All officers belong to the Crossed Sabers Club, formed to promotte a closer relationship between the officers of the unit, and to help promotet cooperation in military activities. These included such events as the Eleventh Military Ball, inter-company competition in swimming, and rifle matches. The Waukegan Post inaugurated the annual awards of gold, silver, and bronze medals to the high individual team of each company.

Activities Are Varied

Basketball, football, and dance guards fill in the program of the cadets enrolled in military. At every game, dance, or other event that requires a guard, the R. O. T. C. is "Johnny on the spot," ready to take over.

John Yenny was lieutenant colonel the first semester, with Tom Tinsley, Richard Greene, and Douglas Clarke as majors.

Walter Hoff topped the second semester officers as lieutenant colonel. Bill Francke, Don Francke, and Pontus Johnson ranked as majors for the latter half of the year. Captains Sam Rosen, Richard Salisbury, Nick Goldschmidt, and Roger Edwards completed the rest of the staff.

During this semester, garrison hats appeared on all staff officers. Purple and gold citation cords draped on the left shoulder of the uniform, and purple "patches" with letters in gold stating "Waukegan T. H. S. ROTC" and gold crossed rifles in the center made their debut on the khaki suits of those qualifying for these honors. The cords were presented to the Color Guard, Firing Squad, and Honor or Drill Platoon. The patches were given to those qualifying as members of the rifle club.

"Just barely a ten" . . . Staff Sergeant Holly scores the target of a rifle team member in stiff competition against Joliet high school.

"Ready on the right?" . . . "Ready on the left?" . . . "Ready on the firing line?" . . . "At will, commence firing!"

Marksmen Are Active

Munder the direction of Staff Sergeant John Holly, the rifle team traveled and competed in many matches with schools including Evanston, St. Mel, Joliet, Gary, and St. John's Military Academy. They also took part in postal matches with many junior colleges and freshman teams of various universities. The Sixth Corps Area match and Hearst matches were the main ones on the 1939-'40 schedule.

The Color Guard was under the leadership of Major Bill Francke, who was a captain, the first semester, and Captain Nick Goldschmidt, who commanded it the second semester. At every assembly program this group of cadets marched out to present the colors during the pledge of allegiance to the flag and during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Firing Squad on the Job

Wham! Wham! Wham! the firing squad is in perfect alignment as their rifles bark salutes in honor of Legionnaires and others who are honored with military funerals. This active organization never hesitated when called upon to perform their duty in memory of persons who had passed on. This is but one example of a military activity which is little heard of, but to which the cadets give much of their spare time.

There goes a farewell salute now! It is the ROTC firing squad honoring, in this instance, the passing school year. We hear also the plaintive notes of the bugle — it is sounding "Taps" for all the happy school activities of WTHS for the year 1939-'40.

Two Men and an Idea in the Land of Opportunity

Everything begins with an idea.

Two men, working in a New York
City basement nearly a century ago, had an idea they could manufacture roofing by pouring hot asphalt and other ingredients from a tea kettle outo a sheet of felt and then passing the asphalted felt through a clothes wringer.

The idea worked.

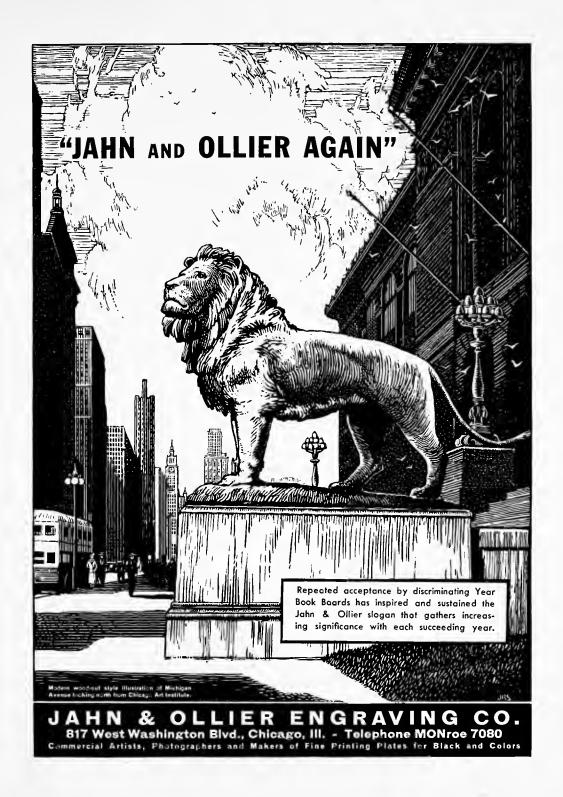

Today, those two men and a clothes wringer have been multiplied by thousands and the organization they started has developed through the years into the Johns-Manville Corporation. This company now operates mines, mills or factories in 17 locations scattered from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans. The company sells its 1,200 different products to home builders and industry through 83 sales offices. It gives direct employment to II,000 persons, and indirect employment to many more.

Maybe you have heard this story before. But it has a moral which makes it ever new. The moral is that America is the Land of Opportunity. Nothing can ever change that, so long as the motive power of America's economic life is supplied by the initiative and energy of a free and democratic people.

FIRST SPEAKER 1934 Darathy Rus

Let us turn back the pages of Waukegan High School's history to the year 1920. On the campus could be seen only one building, the Senior School, built in 1910 to accomodate some four hundred students, and by 1920 the enrollment had grown to over five hundred. This need was met by the building in 1921 of a unit known as the Junior School but at that time it consisted of only the part fronting on Washington Street and a small cafeteria wing.

In 1926, the dream of every Waukegan High School student came true with the building of the new gymnasium. Impressive dedication exercises were held Dec. 9, 1926, and students and patrons of the school pointed with pride to this new addition.

The school increased in size and even the corridors in the Junior building had to be used for classrooms and study halls which were formed by the use of screens. The need was again met by the building of the west wing connecting the Junior building and gym.

The enrollment of the school has grown by leaps and bounds in the last fifteen years. In 1923, there were over a thousand students; by 1928, this number was doubled; and to-day we have over twenty-five hundred enrolled.

Two superintendents have guided the activities of W.T.H.S. during this period. Mr. Keeler held the position from 1920 to 1924, and in 1924, our present superintendent Mr. Thalman, came to Waukegan.

Miss Margaret Dady was made principal of the Junior school when it was occupied in 1921, and Miss Grace Warren was made Dean of girls at that time. Mr. Prichard became Senior School principal.

The number on the faculty has increased in proportion to the growth of the school from sixty-one in 1923 to eighty-eight at the present time in 1935.

In the development of its curriculum, Waukegan High School has kept pace with the important trends in modern education and with wuiting the school to the needs of the students and community.

Even through the hard years of the depression its purpose never faltered, and a sacrifice on the part of those interested in the welfare of the school kept its standards high.

Now with another important forward step taken in the building of the Vocational School, we have great faith in Waukegan Township High School to meet all problems and crises in the future as it has in the past.

IV. ANTHEM

I.	INSTRUMENTAL PRELUDE—Petite SuiteDebussy a. Cortege b. Menuet Gertrude Griffin, Lawana Connell
II.	PROCESSIONAL Ancient of Days
	Ancient of Days
	Ancient of Days, who sittest, throned in glory; To Thee all knees are bent, all voices pray; Thy love has blessed the wide world's wondrous story With light and life since Eden's dawning day.
	O Holy Father, who has led Thy children in all the ages, with the Fire and Cloud, Through seas dry-shod, through weary wastes bewildering, To Thee, in reverent love, our hearts are bowed.
	O Holy Jesus, Prince of Peace and Saviour, To Thee we owe the peace that still prevails, Stilling the rude wills of men's wild behaviour, And calming passion's fierce and stormy gales.
	O Holy Ghost, the Lord and the Life-giver, Thine is the quickening power that gives increase. From Thee have flowed, as from a pleasant river, Our plenty, wealth, prosperity, and peace.
	O Triune God, with heart and voice adoring. Praise we the goodness that doth crown our days; Pray we that Thou wilt hear us, still imploring Thy love and favour, kept to us always. AMEN.

VI. ANTHEM Mixed Chorus Jesus Calls Us Jesus calls us; o'er the tumult Of our life's wild, restless sea Day by day His sweet voice soundeth, Saying, "Christian, follow Me." As of old, Saint Andrew heard it By the Galilean lake, Turned from home, and toil, and kindred, Leaving all for His dear sake. Jesus calls us from the worship Of the vain world's golden store: From each idol that would keep us, Saying, "Christian, love Me more," In our joys and in our sorrows, Days of toil and hours of case, Still He calls, in cares and pleasures, "That we love Him more than these." Jesus calls us: by Thy mercies, Savior, make us hear Thy call, Give our hearts to Thine obedience, Serve and love Thee best of all.-AMEN. VIII. SERMON—"Youth at its Best".... The Rev. J. B. XI. RECESSIONAL

Rejoice, ye pure in heart!
Rejoice, give thanks, and sing!
Your glorious banner wave on high:
The Cross of Christ your King!
Rejoice, Rejoice, Rejoice, give thanks and sing!

Bright youth, and snow-crowned age, Strong men and maidens meek: Raise high, your free, exulting song! God's wondrous praises speak! Rejoice, Rejoice, Rejoice, give thanks and sing!

With all the angel choirs,
With all the saints of earth,
Pour out the strains of joy and bliss,
True rapture, noblest mirth!
Rejoice, Rejoice, Rejoice, give thanks and sing!

Your clear Hosannas raise, And Alleluias loud! Whilst answering echoes upward float, Like wreaths of incense cloud. Rejoice, Rejoice, Rejoice, give thanks and sing!

Then on, ye pure in heart!
Rejoice, give thanks, and sing!
Your glorious banner wave on high,
The Cross of Christ your King!
Rejoice, Rejoice, Rejoice, give thanks and sing!
